Highway Fire Destroys Truck Cargo

A truckload of charred ruins, mostly electrical equipment, stood in front of the Phillips Garage, 122 S. Fayette St., Friday morning, awaiting the arrival of insurance adjusters to estimate the loss. The truck itself, owned by the Alexander Rent-a-Car Co., of Columbus, also was badly damaged. The electrical equipment owned by the Arac Co., Columbus, was being brought here by Bob Bay for storage when the cargo burst into flames on the CCC Highway. BAY SAID he and his two helpers, Robert Hand and Ralph Crisp of Columbus, had stopped briefly in Mount Sterling about 3 p. m. Thursday on their way here and that they had neither seen or smelled any evidence of fire then. However, just after they passed the Cooks Station crossroads on the CCC Highway, Hand looked through the rear window of the cab and saw flames in the cargo. The truck was stopped and the Mount Sterling Fire Department answered their call for help with a tank truck. An estimated 1,000 gallons of water was poured over the blaze while heavy traffic over the CCC Highway was blocked. ALTHOUGH THE LOAD was still smoldering, the Warner wrecker was called from Washington C. H. to tow the truck here in order to clear the highway. As soon as it was parked in front of the Phillips Garage, the Washington C. H. Fire Department sent a tanker to douse the fire, which had been whipped up again by the draft of the moving truck. After half an hour it was extinguished. Bay said he had no idea how the fire started and that he could not estimate the loss until after the insurance adjuster had made his report. Bay, a former resident of Washington C. H., had been in the electrical business in Columbus, but had been in Cleveland for the last six weeks. He said he planned to put his equipment in storage here and go back to Cleveland.

Former Fayette Resident Slain In Argument

John Harris, 24, Shot to Death in Columbus Home

A 24-year-old former Bloomingburg resident was shot to death shortly after midnight Thursday during an argument with his brother-in-law in a South side Columbus home. The victim is John Harris, 24, whose father, Cecil Harris, is a resident of Bloomingburg. Franklin County deputy sheriffs said they are holding Harris' 28-year-old brother-in-law, Alfred Brown Jr., for investigation of homicide. The murder weapon was a 20-gauge shotgun. Brown, his wife, Helena, and their five children had gone to bed, according to deputies, when Harris made a midnight visit to their home. Investigating officers said Brown told them Harris started to shove "my wife" around after getting the couple out of bed.

BROWN, they said, told them he went into another room and returned with a shotgun and shot Harris in the face. Minutes after the killing, he called sheriff's deputies and told them: "Come and get me. I just did something bad." The shooting took place in the kitchen of Brown's home, 480 Stambaugh Ave., Columbus, while five small children slept. Deputies found Harris' body on the rear stoop, sprawled across the open doorway. BROWN was held for investigation of homicide after he gave Sheriff's Lt. Ellsworth Beck and Sgt. Al Huff this account: He and his wife, Helena, 28, Harris' sister, were asleep when they were roused by noises in the kitchen. Investigating, they found Harris had forced the rear door. An argument began over a bill Harris claimed he had paid, and Harris began pushing his sister around. Brown ordered him to leave. He refused. Brown went into the living room, returned with the loaded shotgun, again ordered Harris to leave. FROM the open rear doorway, Harris again refused to leave. At close range, Brown pulled the trigger. He called deputies after return. (Please turn to page two)

Congress Leaders Meet with President

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Eisenhower and congressional leaders discussed the tense world situation for 2½ hours today. The legislators left the White House using such terms as "grave" and "serious" but their were expressions also of optimism. Eisenhower was quoted by some of a large group of conferees as saying that no one could forecast what might happen in the troubled Middle East situation but as believing that the peak of the crisis there may have passed. The session was aimed both to bring the legislators up to date on developments and to weld bipartisan backing for administration moves in the situation. Eisenhower called in a group of top administration officials to join in the discussions. Among them were Vice President Nixon, Acting Secretary of State Herbert Hoover Jr. and Secretary of Defense Wilson. Others included Adm. Arthur W. Radford, chairman of the Joint Chiefs of Staff; Allen Dulles, chief of the Central Intelligence Agency; Secretary of the Treasury Humphrey, and Arthur S. Flemming, director of the Office of Defense Mobilization. Shortly before the session began, White House Press Secretary James C. Hagerty said "there are no plans at the moment" for British Prime Minister Anthony Eden and French Premier Guy Mollet to confer here with the President, and that it was not true that the United States had accepted a Swiss government invitation to attend a conference with the heads of government of Britain, France, Russia and India.

Judge Lets Him Count Pennies

PASADENA, Calif. (AP)—Benny Bowen walked into municipal court carrying a 40-pound sack of pennies to pay a $58 traffic fine. At the payment window was Judge Donald R. Wright, who had found Bowen, 21, guilty of speeding and drag racing. "We're not going to count those pennies—you are," Judge Wright told Bowen. Several hours later, Bowen paid up with the pennies neatly counted in envelopes.

Veterans Day To Be Observed Here Both Sunday and Monday

Veterans Day — it used to be called Armistice Day — will be observed here both Sunday and Monday this year. Sunday morning members of the American Legion and its Auxiliary are to meet at Legion Hall, 212 N. Fayette St., at 10 o'clock and go to Grace Methodist Church in a body for special services in accordance with a long standing custom. Legionnaires and Auxiliary members attend Veterans Day services in a different church each year. The major features of the observance, however, will be Monday. These ceremonies will start at Washington C. H. High School at 8:50 a. m. with the Veterans Day address by the Rev. Richard J. Connelly, pastor of St. Columbian Catholic Church, to the student assembly. Russell Whited, commander of the Hughey post of the Legion, is to explain the meaning of Veterans Day and read the poem "Flanders Fields," one of the classics of World War I. William Stoughton, vice commander of the state department of the Legion, is to lead the students in the "Pledge of Allegiance." Paul Souther, chaplain of the Legion district, is to deliver the invocation. MONDAY EVENING, members

New Road Building Proposal Readied

COLUMBUS (AP) — State Rep. Kline L. Roberts (R-Franklin) says the Columbus Chamber of Commerce highway committee will recommend to the next Legislature that the state put up "the majority" of matching funds required on urban interstate highway construction. Roberts, chairman of the committee, is expected to be re-elected majority floor leader of the Ohio House when the Legislature convenes next year.

Israelis, British Soften; U N Unit To Police Egypt

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Israeli agreement to pull its troops out of Egypt and Britain's announcement that it is withdrawing some military units from the East Mediterranean spurred efforts today to rush a United Nations police force to the Middle East.

Prime Minister Eden told the House of Commons in London that many Royal Air Force squadrons would be pulled out of Cyprus at once.

Eden also said British assault troops (paratroop and commando groups) will be moved out of Egypt's Port Said. He said they will be replaced by infantry units until the U. N. police force moves into Egypt.

A dispatch from Famagusta, Cyprus, said a contingent of British paratroops already had returned there after spending three days on the Port Said beachhead.

Quiet was reported on the Suez Canal battlefield as U. N. officials worked at top speed to mobilize the international police force.

WESTERN capitals still kept a wary eye out for signs of Soviet troops movement toward Suez.

British Defense Minister Antony Head said his government had reports Egyptian workmen are busy repairing air installations damaged by the British air raids.

French Foreign Minister Christian Pineau told a parliamentary committee in Paris that an "important formation" of Soviet MIG-17 fighter planes has flown to Syrian bases.

The Egyptian Embassy in Moscow said it was continuing to enroll hundreds of Soviet "volunteers" for service in the Middle East. Communist China earlier reported a favorable response to Egyptian appeals for help.

Secretary General Dag Hammarskjöld hinted that the first units of the U. N. force would reach Egypt "very shortly."

Informed sources said plans call for getting two teams of about 40 men each on the scene as soon as possible, and to follow up with a final force expected to number from 2,500 to 5,000 men or more. Seventeen U. N. members have volunteered to contribute to the police organization. The big power. (Please Turn to Page Two)

Armco Election Results OKd By Labor Board

The National Labor Relations Board has certified the results of an election held at the Armco Drainage and Metal Products Co. plant here Oct. 29. A. H. Hutton, plant manager, announced Friday. The United Automobile Workers — CIO, were defeated in their bid to represent Armco employees by a vote of 122 to 51.

According to Labor Board rules, the Union had five working days in which to file any complaint or objections to the election which it might have. The Regional Board in Cincinnati has now certified the results of the election.

The election certificate was signed on behalf of the National Labor Relations Board by Acting Regional Director George M. Dick. It declared that the election had been conducted in accordance with the rules and regulations of the board. "It appearing from the tally of ballots that no collective bargaining representative had been selected, and no objections having been filed to the tally of ballots furnished to the parties, or to the conduct of the election, within the time provided." The certificate of election results stated that the board was legally authorized to certify the tally of ballots.

"It is hereby certified that a majority of the valid ballots has not been cast for any labor organization appearing on the ballot, and that no such organization is the exclusive representative of all the employees, in the unit herein involved." The labor board certificate continued.

The election was reported at 11:51 p. m. Thursday night. Instone said both buildings and the warehouse were ablaze by the time his men arrived.

The main Montgomery Ward building and its adjacent annex are two-story brick structures. The warehouse is at the rear.

Instone said cause of the fire was not known immediately, but that he thinks it started at the rear of the main building.

The awning of an automatic laundry adjacent to Montgomery Ward and the roof of an auto street booth, caught fire from flying debris. Firemen put out both these blazes.

U. S. Sees No Danger Ahead In Soviet Troop Movements

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Pentagon, alert to the recent shifting of Soviet forces behind the Iron Curtain, so far has discovered no sign of any movement of the Reds' long-range air force to where it could attack North America.

In these trigger-tense days, the United States is being ultra-cautious about making any shifts of its own Strategic Air Command units that might be misunderstood by the Kremlin.

In discussing the Russian long-range force, which now consists of medium and heavy bombers by the hundreds, one informed Pentagon officer said today that "so far as we know they are not poised."

He hastened to add that the United States didn't know a Jap-

Budapest Sees New Uprising by Rebels; Ike's Plea Shunned

VIENNA (AP) — Bitter new street fighting broke out in Budapest today and the Russian-supported Hungarian government ordered new measures to combat the doggedly resisting rebels.

Russia served notice she would brook no interference from the outside world in her fight to crush Hungary's bid for freedom. Premier Bulganin told President Eisenhower in a note that the question of Soviet troop withdrawals from Hungary was "completely and entirely" between the Russian and Hungarian governments.

The Red Hungarian regime's Budapest radio said Soviet troops and police forces were unable to quell shooting in Budapest.

The broadcast said "armed gangs" were breaking into factories and others were attacking food trains en route to Budapest and carrying off the food.

Budapest radio sent out urgent appeals for food transport workers to go back on the job as the capital and other parts of the country verged on starvation.

Reports from refugees crossing the Austrian frontier said a general strike still is in force and the nation's railway system is paralyzed. Lack of coal, shortage of electric power, lack of clothing and a severe food shortage are heading the country toward more chaos.

NEITHER SOVIET troops nor the government they installed seemed able to keep the situation from worsening.

Their appeals seemed to have little effect on a stubborn population. Reports reaching Vienna said freedom fighters appeared to be maintaining a firm position in the (Please turn to page two)

Nasser Says U. S., Russia 'With Us'

CAIRO (AP) — President Nasser declared today the United States and Soviet Russia "were with us" when Egypt defended herself against British, French and Israeli attacks. He denied his Arab allies had failed him and that his air force had been destroyed. Nasser declared the Arab allies were "ready to fight" but he rejected their aid because he did not want to spread the war.

"King Saud contacted me by telephone and said the Saudi Arabian army and money were at Egypt's service," Nasser said in a talk at Al Azhar mosque.

"My answer was that we were worried about Jordan, and that the Egyptian army was able to repulse Israeli aggression."

Nasser said he was explaining the position of Egypt's allies in answer to enemy demands: "where is Arab nationalism?"

Nasser said Prime Minister Eden of Britain was not able to fulfill his aim: "Egypt's air force still exists and is awaiting her turn in the fight." The British and French claimed they had knocked out Egypt's air force.

Nasser said he had contact with President Eisenhower the day after Russia had warned Britain and France of possible Soviet intervention in the hostilities.

"I informed the American President about Egypt's stand and I asked him to explain America's position," Nasser continued. "I understood that the American President was opposed to aggression and that America was working to nullify aggression and stop barbaric acts."

Totals Show Fewer Ohioans Voted Tuesday than in '52

COLUMBUS (AP)—Tuesday's election saw a huge flood of voters in Ohio, but, even so, the total vote this year was less than during the 1952 presidential poll. Complete unofficial tabulation of the balloting shows that 3,746,272 Ohio citizens voted this year compared to 3,749,828 four years ago. That is a difference of 3,556.

Secretary of State Ted W. Brown, Republican incumbent, piled up more votes in Tuesday's election than any other candidate for executive state office. Complete unofficial returns gave Brown 1,985,712 to Democrat Hubert H. Humphrey's 1,337,447. Atty. Gen. C. William O'Neill polled 1,980,780 in defeating Democrat Michael V. DiSalle for governor. DiSalle received 1,556,314. President Eisenhower's 2,262,865 set a new Ohio record for presidential candidates. Democrat Adlai E. Stevenson got 1,441,208. Brown, who estimated the total vote at 3½ million, said the total might show a slight gain when the official count is completed, within a few days.

In the U.S. senatorial contest, Democratic Gov. Frank J. Lausche received 1,863,865 to defeat Republican incumbent George H. Bender, who polled 1,662,437.

The secretary of state's unofficial count gave these results in other races for statewide office: Lieutenant Governor — Republican Paul M. Herbert 1,897,550, Democrat John Taylor 1,444,639.

Auditor — Republican James A. Rhodes, 1,828,340, Democrat Joseph T. Ferguson 1,518,077.

Treasurer — Republican Roger W. Tracy 1,818,751, Democrat John W. Donahay 1,466,656.

Attorney General — Republican William Saxbe 1,719,420, Democrat Stephen M. Young 1,562,600. Chief Justice — Democrat Carl V. Weyandt 1,698,768, Republican Willard D. Campbell 1,212,366.

Supreme Court (Jan. 1 term) — Republican John M. Matthias 2,041,182, Democrat Merrill D. Brothers 745,276.

Supreme Court (Jan. 2 term) — Republican Thomas J. Herbert 2,102,493, Democrat Evan P. Ford 759,557.

Supreme Court judges ran on a separate, nonpartisan ballot. The vote on changes in the Ohio Constitution authorizing a state bonus for Ohio veterans of the Korean conflict and extending terms of state senators from two to four years was:

Korean bonus—Yes 2,186,504, No 897,258. Four-year terms—Yes 1,634,446, No 1,213,669.

3,000 Flee Rickety TV Tower Area after 4 Die in Mishap

NORTH BERGEN, N. J. (AP)—Some 3,000 residents had been cleared today from an area around an 810-foot television tower, long called a "hazard" here, for fear it might topple following a plane crash which took four lives.

A twin-engine Beechcraft en route from Indianapolis was flying through rain and fog Thursday when it clipped off one leg of the lattice steel tower, the tallest structure in New Jersey.

The private plane then smashed into the top of a crowded apartment house eight blocks away. One engine was hurled into the courtyard of a parochial school. Flaming gasoline sprayed trees along the street. Police said four persons are known dead — two men who were in the plane and two women from the apartment house. One of the women jumped five stories to the street in panic as the building burst into flames.

Fifteen others were injured, one seriously. They included 12 firemen.

MAYOR ANGELO Sarubbi ordered some 3,000 persons in the area to evacuate their homes Thursday night. About 500 volunteer workers helped them move in with relatives or into two schools thrown open as emergency centers.

The tower is owned by New York radio station WOR but has not been in use since 1953. Residents have been unsuccessful in

A sheriff and his deputies never know what kind of a job they will be asked to do in line of public service.

Deputy Charles Hays turned hog tender for about an hour Friday morning to help Gerald Stephenson round up about 100 hogs that had gotten out of the field four miles east of Washington C. H. on the Circleville Pike and scattered over a wide area and along the Pennsylvania Railroad.

Deputy Hays said that when he left, he had put about 30 of them in a lot on the land farmed by Cliff Hughes and had chased nearly as many off of the railroad right-of-way.

A 24-year-old former Bloomingburg resident was shot to death shortly after midnight Thursday during an argument with his brother-in-law in a South side Columbus home.

The victim is John Harris, 24, whose father, Cecil Harris, is a resident of Bloomingburg.

BROWN was held for investigation of homicide after he gave Sheriff's Lt. Ellsworth Beck and Sgt. Al Huff this account:

He and his wife, Helena, 28, Harris' sister, were asleep when they were roused by noises in the kitchen.

Investigating, they found Harris had forced the rear door. An argument began over a bill Harris claimed he had paid, and Harris began pushing his sister around.

Brown ordered him to leave. He refused. Brown went into the living room, returned with the loaded shotgun, again ordered Harris to leave.

Reports from refugees crossing the Austrian frontier said a general strike still is in force and the nation's railway system is paralyzed. Lack of coal, shortage of electric power, lack of clothing and a severe food shortage are heading the country toward more chaos.

NEITHER SOVIET troops nor the government they installed seemed able to keep the situation from worsening.

Their appeals seemed to have little effect on a stubborn population. Reports reaching Vienna said freedom fighters appeared to be maintaining a firm position in the

Nasser Says U. S., Russia 'With Us'

CAIRO (AP)—President Nasser declared today the United States and Soviet Russia "were with us" when Egypt defended herself against British, French and Israeli attacks. He denied his Arab allies had failed him and that his air force had been destroyed.

Nasser declared the Arab allies were "ready to fight" but he rejected their aid because he did not want to spread the war.

"King Saud contacted me by telephone and said the Saudi Arabian army and money were at Egypt's service," Nasser said in a talk at El Azhar mosque.

"My answer was that we were worried about Jordan, and that the Egyptian army was able to repulse Israeli aggression."

Nasser said he was explaining the position of Egypt's allies in answer to enemy demands: "where is Arab nationalism?"

Nasser said Prime Minister Eden of Britain was not able to fulfill his aim: "Egypt's air force still exists and is awaiting her turn in the fight." The British and French claimed they had knocked out Egypt's air force.

Nasser said he had contact with President Eisenhower the day after Russia had warned Britain and France of possible Soviet intervention in the hostilities.

"I informed the American President about Egypt's stand and I asked him to explain America's position," Nasser continued. "I understood that the American President was opposed to aggression and that America was working to nullify aggression and stop barbaric acts."

Totals Show Fewer Ohioans Voted Tuesday than in '52

COLUMBUS (AP)—Tuesday's election saw a huge flood of voters in Ohio, but, even so, the total vote this year was less than during the 1952 presidential poll.

Complete unofficial tabulation of the balloting shows that 3,746,272 Ohio citizens voted this year compared to 3,749,828 four years ago. That is a difference of 3,556.

Dem Congress Margin Near Present Total; 5 Undecided

WASHINGTON (AP)—Democrats were within one seat today of carrying their present House voting strength into the new Congress, with prospects of adding most of the five races still undecided.

In the Senate, they enter the 85th Congress with the same 49-47 margin over Republicans they held in the present Congress.

Democrats led in four of the five House contests still hanging from Tuesday's election. Their final margin may have to await official canvasses later this month.

But even without these, the Democrats were assured of at least 231 seats — 13 more than they need for control. In the expiring Congress they held 232 seats to 203 for the Republicans.

The GOP, with 199 House seats apparently won, awaited a reckoning of the vote in New Jersey's 13th Dist., where Republican Norman Roth had an unofficial lead of only two votes over Rep. Alfred D. Sieminski, Democrat.

Democratic candidates led, meantime, in these other contests still in doubt:

Kentucky 7th — Rep. Carl D. Perkins (D); Scott Craft (R).

Missouri 11th — Rep. Morgan Moulder (D); G. H. Miller (R).

Nebraska 3rd — Rep. R. D. Harrison (R); Lawrence Brock (D).

Washington 4th — Rep. Hal Holmes (R); Frank Leroux (D).

The Democrats came out on top in two other close contests decided

GOP Central Committee Endorses Pair

Two Washington C. H. mail carriers, Ralph Baughn and Phil Douglass, were recommended for transfer to rural routes by the Republican Central Committee at its first post-election meeting Thursday night.

Both already on Civil Service status, they had made application for the transfer to rural routes some time ago, Postmaster Clark Wickensimer said.

If the recommendation of the committee is confirmed, they will replace Harry Hiser and C. Virgil Sexton, both veterans of the service who are to retire Nov. 30, Wickensimer said.

The postmaster pointed out that if Baughn and Douglass are transferred in accordance with the recommendation — which, incidentally, was forwarded to Sen. John W. Bricker immediately after the meeting — their positions as city carriers and a third vacancy created by the resignation of Jack Greer will have to be filled. A Civil Service examination for their replacements has been scheduled for next month, Wickensimer said.

Greer resigned as a city carrier to enter the Navy several weeks ago.

Neither Baughn nor Douglass will be required to take the examination, Wickensimer said because they already are under Civil Service. Both are war veterans.

THE CENTRAL Committee also heard reports on the campaign that ended with the Nov. 6 election from Richard R. Willis, chairman of the Executive Committee, and Mrs. Charles P. Wagner, the secretary. Only rough estimates of the expenses were given, but the Central Committee was told the figures would be compiled for filing with the Board of Elections, according to law, in about 10 days.

Although the county commissioners have appropriated the money for another deputy sheriff and another patrol car, the Central Committee did not make any recommendations for the appointment or even discuss the matter.

Ohio River Modernization Speedup Urged

CINCINNATI (AP)—Completion of navigation modernization on the Ohio River by 1970 has become an aim of the Ohio Valley Improvement Assn.

The civic-industrial group, winding up its 61st annual meeting here Thursday adopted a resolution urging that the modernization work be completed by 1970 instead of within 20 to 25 years as originally proposed.

The resolution said Ohio River commerce "faces the threat of a major crisis" if a national emergency should bring extraordinary demands on water transportation facilities.

The association also took a stand against imposition of tolls or user charges on American waterways. It urged its trustees and officers to oppose any such plan "by all appropriate means."

O.V.I.A. officers re-elected included Harry M. Mack of Cincinnati, president; Hudson Biery of Cincinnati, executive vice president, and Kenneth M. Lloyd of Youngstown, secretary treasurer.

In another meeting, Lloyd, who is chairman of the Ohio River Valley Water Sanitation Commission, told his group that 800 municipalities in the Ohio Valley with a total population of more than 7,500,000 now have sewage treatment plants in operation or under construction.

Lloyd said copies of his report on the progress in water sanitation are being sent to the governors of Illinois, Indiana, Kentucky, New York, Ohio, Pennsylvania, Virginia and West Virginia — the eight states which are members of water sanitation group.

Election Cuts Average Age Of Senators

WASHINGTON (AP)—Election of nine new faces among the 96 senators will lower the average age of that body, but the average senator in January will be about 57.

The average has been between 57 and 58½ years at the start of each of the last five two-year sessions, the Library of Congress says.

The Senate acquires a new "baby member" in 32-year-old Frank Church, Idaho Democrat. He takes this distinction from Sen. Russell Long (D-La.), now 38, who has been the youngest senator for eight years.

Long was elected before he reached the minimum legal age of 30 but qualified before he was sworn in.

When Church and other new senators take the oath in January the Senate ages will range from his 32 to 89 for Sen. Theodore Francis Green (D-R.I.), oldest present member of Congress and the oldest man ever to sit in the Senate.

All of the nine newly elected senators replace older men except Gov. Frank Lausche (D-Ohio), who is 10 months older than Sen. George Bender (R-Ohio), whom he replaces. Lausche, 61 next week, and Chapman Revercomb (R-W. Va.), now 61, are the oldest of the newly elected group.

BUSINESS will be slowed down somewhat Monday by the general observance. The post office will observe the usual holiday schedule of no mail deliveries, although the lobby will be open from 6 a. m. until 6 p. m. Outgoing mail will be dispatched as usual and incoming mail will be distributed to post office boxes. Special delivery mail will be delivered as usual.

The two banks and savings and loan association offices are to be closed all day. Both city and county offices will be closed for the day, too, but the police and fire departments will be on regular schedules.

While there has been no plan for the holiday set up by the stores here, Ralph Cook, chairman of the Retail Merchants Committee of the Chamber of Commerce, said "indications that most of them—about 90 or 95 per cent—will remain open as usual." He added that what the stores do, is up to the proprietors and managers.

The Weather Chandler Sees Bright Future For Himself

FRANKFORT, Ky. (AP)—Gov. A. B. (Happy) Chandler's aspirations for the presidency apparently have increased with the passing of the one-time Clements-Wetherby political powerhouse into Republican hands.

The combine's collapse was completed late Thursday when the GOP's Thurston B. Morton went ahead to stay in his neck-and-neck Senate race with Sen. Earle C. Clements.

Former Gov. Lawrence W. Wetherby had been handed a resounding defeat earlier by John Sherman Cooper in competition for the four years remaining in the Senate term of the late Alben W. Barkley.

Commenting on the election results at a press conference Thursday Chandler said he will seek the Democratic presidential nomination in 1960 if he can get party support.

Chandler said he thought he deserved consideration because he assumed the Democrats will be looking for a presidential candidate who "can run and win. I'm a fair runner—maybe as good as some they have supported."

Asked to comment on Adlai Stevenson's decisive defeat and the Republican senatorial victory in Kentucky, Chandler said it was his practice to go by the "scoreboard," indicating the results speak for themselves.

The election of Morton and Cooper means Kentucky will have two Republican senators serving simultaneously for only the second time in history. And with Clements and Wetherby, out of power, it gives Chandler more say-so in state party organization.

Moran Arraigned On Burglary Job

DAYTON (AP)—George (Bugs) Moran, 64, a Chicago racketeer leader during the prohibition era, and Virgil Summers, another underworld figure, were arraigned in U. S. District Court here Thursday on an 11-year-old federal bank burglary charge.

Judge Lester Cecil ordered their return to Montgomery County jail after setting bail at $25,000 each. They were released from Ohio Penitentiary Thursday, where they served 10 years for the holdup of a tavern messenger in the Dayton area in 1946.

Moran and Summers were arraigned on an indictment accusing them of burglarizing a bank at Ansonia, Ohio, in 1945.

Bender Crew Studies Why Senator Lost

COLUMBUS (AP)—Backers of ousted GOP Sen. George Bender today were wondering how their man could have been beaten in Ohio by Democratic Gov. Frank J. Lausche by 200,000 votes while President Eisenhower was winning by 800,000.

How did the five-term governor do it, especially when he made few campaign speeches and concentrated most of his time attending county fairs?

Answer: By the simple expedient of having more friends in Ohio's big cities than Bender.

The senator-elect carried seven of Ohio's eight metropolitan counties. He lost only Hamilton County (Cincinnati), and then by only 5,000.

In the seven big counties he carried, Lausche had a plurality of 228,500. The vote: Lausche 929,276, Bender 701,776.

And that was the difference. In the other 81 counties, Bender had a majority of about 28,000.

Bender carried 54 counties to 34 for Lausche.

Lausche's majorities were of the order of 101,000 in Cuyahoga County, 42,000 in Summit, 28,000 in Mahoning, 23,000 in Franklin, 15,000 in Montgomery, 12,000 in Lucas and 7,500 in Stark.

In 11 of the counties in his camp, Bender carried by less than 1,000 votes, some by as few as a couple of dozen votes.

Angry Coeds Lose Fight to Gridders

EUGENE, Ore. (AP)—Freshman girls, angry at the Athletic Lettermen's Club, stormed into the University of Oregon Student Union Building Thursday night and smeared members of the football squad with lipstick.

The 250 screaming girls were no match for the 40 gridders, whose dinner they interrupted. The players grabbed the lipsticks and smeared the girls.

Ringleaders of the raid said it was retaliatory. The lettermen have been smearing lipstick on the faces of freshmen girls who fail to wear the traditional green ribbon in their hair.

Ample Rainfall Expected in Ohio In Next 5 Months

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—Poetically put:

"Ohio rain went away, but it will come another day."

Which is to say that the state had subnormal rainfall in September and October, but the next five months should provide ample precipitation.

That's the gist of a report from the state division of water, which said it considers the present situation "satisfactory."

In contrast to an exceptional amount of rainfall a few months earlier, less than half the normal amount of rain has fallen in northern Ohio the last two months, the report said.

Ohio's streams haven't dropped much, though, because underground water has fed and maintained them at close to average level, the report explained. Underground water itself has dropped a little, but was higher in October than a year ago.

Two more of the city's better hotels, the Royal and the Continental, went up in flames. Heavy rebel fire prevented fire brigades from getting near the blazing buildings.

Rebels raided a state-owned store and carried off 5,000 radio sets, apparently to supply the fighters with means to get news from the outside.

A Hungarian student arriving from Budapest said the people of all villages and towns he passed on his way were with the rebels. He said he saw several truckloads of Hungarian soldiers carrying the red, white and green "free" Hungarian flag and speeding toward Budapest.

Individual Soviet tanks were being attacked by civilians even in small villages, the student said.

Russia's warning against intervention from beyond the Iron Curtain came in a reply from Bulgarian to Eisenhower's note asking that Russian soldiers be pulled out of Hungary.

The Soviet premier recommended that Eisenhower "get acquainted with the program" broadcast by the Soviet-installed Hungarian government of Premier Janos Kadar.

Bulgaria's note seemed to spell continued failure for U. N. efforts to secure the Russian troops with withdrawal and the entry into Hungary of a team of U. N. observers, both demanded in a General Assembly resolution last weekend.

The Assembly scheduled another meeting today to take up new resolutions (1) accusing the Soviet Union of genocide and violent repression, (2) calling again for Soviet withdrawal, free elections and U. N. investigation, and (3) asking the Soviet Union to stop interfering with distribution of food and medical relief, which the Kadar regime has refused from the West.

All of the nine newly elected senators replace older men except Gov. Frank Lausche (D-Ohio), who is 10 months older than Sen. George Bender (R-Ohio), whom he replaces. Lausche, 61 next week, and Chapman Revercomb (R-W. Va.), now 61, are the oldest of the newly elected group.

Veterans Day

The Legion, are invited, Commander Whited said.

BUSINESS will be slowed down somewhat Monday by the general observance. The post office will observe the usual holiday schedule of no mail deliveries, although the lobby will be open from 6 a. m. until 6 p. m. Outgoing mail will be dispatched as usual and incoming mail will be distributed to post office boxes. Special delivery mail will be delivered as usual.

The two banks and savings and loan association offices are to be closed all day. Both city and county offices will be closed for the day, too, but the police and fire departments will be on regular schedules.

While there has been no plan for the holiday set up by the stores here, Ralph Cook, chairman of the Retail Merchants Committee of the Chamber of Commerce, said "indications that most of them—about 90 or 95 per cent—will remain open as usual." He added that what the stores do, is up the proprietors and managers.

Temperatures will average about nine degrees below normal. Normal high 50-54; normal low 33-35. Only minor day to day changes in temperatures. Precipitation will average about one tenth inch near Lake Erie and traces elsewhere as light showers or snow flurries Saturday and Sunday and again about Tuesday or Wednesday, also near Lake Erie.

Man in Poland Wants Brand New, Free U. S. Auto

CINCINNATI (AP)—Jan Zakrzewski of Polska, Poland, wants to own an automobile—and he wants Americans to buy it for him.

Robert MacDonald, clerk of the Cincinnati City Council, received a letter, from Zakrzewski Thursday in which he said it was his "greatest desire" to own an "unpretending motor car" but he does "not have the money."

Zakrzewski said he was sending identical letters to a number of "town councils" with a "cordial request for improvising a petty collection and for sending some dollars on to the address of my brother." He wrote that his brother lives in Eyria, Ohio.

"He (the brother) will then pay the total amount in a post office and I'll get a snug motor car in my country and my dream will come true," the letter said.

Chandler Sees Bright Future For Himself

FRANKFORT, Ky. (AP)—Gov. A. B. (Happy) Chandler's aspirations for the presidency apparently have increased with the passing of the one-time Clements-Wetherby political powerhouse into Republican hands.

The combine's collapse was completed late Thursday when the GOP's Thruston B. Morton went ahead to stay in his neck-and-neck Senate race with Sen. Earle C. Clements.

Former Gov. Lawrence W. Wetherby had been handed a resounding defeat earlier by John Sherman Cooper in competition for the four years remaining in the Senate term of the late Alben W. Barkley.

Commenting on the election results at a press conference Thursday Chandler said he will seek the Democratic presidential nomination in 1960 if he can get party support.

Chandler said he thought he deserved consideration because he assumed the Democrats will be looking for a presidential candidate who "can run and win. I'm a fair runner—maybe as good as some they have supported."

Asked to comment on Adlai Stevenson's decisive defeat and the Republican senatorial victory in Kentucky, Chandler said it was his practice to go by the "scoreboard," indicating the results speak for themselves.

The election of Morton and Cooper means Kentucky will have two Republican senators serving simultaneously for only the second time in history. And with Clements and Wetherby, out of power, it gives Chandler more say-so in state party organization.

Moran Arraigned On Burglary Job

DAYTON (AP)—George (Bugs) Moran, 64, a Chicago rackets leader during the prohibition era, and Virgil Summers, another underworld figure, were arraigned in U. S. District Court here Thursday on an 11-year-old federal bank burglary charge.

Judge Lester Cecil ordered their return to Montgomery County jail after setting bail at $25,000 each.

They were released from Ohio Penitentiary Thursday, where they served 10 years for the holdup of a tavern messenger in the Dayton area in 1946.

Moran and Summers were arraigned on an indictment accusing them of burglarizing a bank at Ansonia, Ohio, in 1945.

Bender Crew Studies Why Senator Lost

COLUMBUS (AP)—Backers of ousted GOP Sen. George Bender today were wondering how their man could have been beaten in Ohio by Democratic Gov. Frank J. Lausche by 200,000 votes while President Eisenhower was winning by 800,000.

How did the five-term governor do it, especially when he made few campaign speeches and concentrated most of his time attending county fairs?

Answer: By the simple expedient of having more friends in Ohio's big cities than Bender.

The senator-elect carried seven of Ohio's eight metropolitan counties. He lost only Hamilton County (Cincinnati), and then by only 5,000.

In the seven big counties he carried, Lausche had a plurality of 228,500. The vote: Lausche 929,276, Bender 709,776.

And that was the difference. In the other 81 counties, Bender had a majority of about 28,000.

Bender carried 54 counties to 34 for Lausche.

Lausche's majorities were of the order of 101,000 in Cuyahoga County, 42,000 in Summit, 28,000 in Mahoning, 23,000 in Franklin, 15,000 in Montgomery, 12,000 in Lucas and 7,500 in Stark.

In 11 of the counties in his camp, Bender carried by less than 1,000 votes, some by as few as a couple of dozen votes.

Angry Coeds Lose Fight to Gridders

EUGENE, Ore. (AP)—Freshman girls, angry at the Athletic Lettermen's Club, stormed into the University of Oregon Student Union Building Thursday night and smeared members of the football squad with lipstick.

The 250 screaming girls were no match for the 40 gridders, whose dinner they interrupted. The players grabbed the lipstick and smeared the girls.

Ringleaders of the raid said it was retaliatory. The lettermen have been smearing lipstick on the faces of freshmen girls who fail to wear the traditional green ribbon in their hair.

"Mary Hawthorth's Mail"

DEAR MARY HAWORTH: My husband is a brilliant man, a good leader and capable of much happiness. But one day he is up in the clouds, bragging about his brilliant future, and the next day down in the depths of dejection, complaining about his hard miserable life as a child.

He is 37 and I am 36. We have been married 15 years and have three children—ages 13, 8 and 5. I was in college and John was a sailor when we met, and from the first we were intensely attracted although we had very different backgrounds. Two years later we married and went to live in his background, where he had a transport job.

In 1943, he rejoined the Navy for two years and I went to my family, with our baby daughter. I worked as secretary while John was away, rising to the job of private secretary to the company president. On John's return we started again in his hometown; and the next few years were very hard. Then followed a job promotion for John, and a move to another city. In the new job we had a rough time at first, the climate was hard on the children (we now had three), John was studying law at night and I was tied down and socially isolated.

In the spring of 1955 I had the flu and afterwards couldn't rally. By spring my weight was down 20 pounds and mother came to visit. Suddenly she and my husband turned on each other like two raging bulls. Each accused the other of trying to ruin me.

Later John took me to a doctor, who sent me to a clergyman, saying I had reached the breaking point. Subsequently, John went with me to a marriage counselor, who made us see we had a good marriage—with the same real basic principles—but that John had used me as a whipping boy. She advised me to make him the center of everything, and not to try to bring him and my mother together much, as each is very dominating.

Recently my parents have settled in California, where the children and I spent five weeks with them this summer, with John joining us the last two weeks. There was no animosity in mother, John soon saw he was welcome, and all of us had a wonderful time. He seemed to become so relaxed.

But now he is showing temper signs, slipping back into his old constant ferment; and there doesn't seem to be anybody who can reach him, at present.

ishes you 'or having a predisposition to happiness that he lacks. He tries to cut down, when you try to share happiness with him. And in this mood, at present, he is actively "taking it out of you"—because of a wonderful holiday with your parents this past summer, which even he enjoyed unwillingly.

Such is the immediate meaning of John's latest outbreak of unreason.

In the larger problem, however, John feels culturally inferior to you, despite his leadership caliber. And he is envious and jealous (resentfully, like a frustrated child), of whatever "advantage" your parental background affords, that he is denied.

Apparently you were drawn to John by neurotic affinity, by a familiar sense of having known him always—by the unconscious recognition that, in him, the most familiar traits of your parents (as you had emotionally "known" them) were combined. That is, your mother's authority, and your father's self-engrossment.

You married a man who would continue to leave you on the outskirts of love and awareness—as your parents had consistently treated you, in childhood, arrogantly undermining your self-esteem (or sense of worth), by unapologetic negligence.

Thus in relation to John you've been a glutton for punishment, because always hoping, with fixed immaturity of feeling, that some day (some year), he, the parent-proxy, would magically change, and open his heart, and love you wholly.

It is your blind childish accommodation to John's rampant unfairness that steps up his irritation, and causes him to add insult to injury, by labeling you a poor weak character.

My urgent advice to both of you is—study Dr. Abraham A. Low's book "Mental Health Through Will Training" (The Christopher Publishing House, Boston, Mass.), which shows real people in process of "being made whole."

Round about Fayette County

By B. E. KELLEY

Another one of those unusual wells was drilled in Fayette County recently, and apparently right into the channel of a preglacial stream which had cut deep into the bedrock.

It is located on the W. C. Vernon farm, formerly the Robert and later the William Parker farm, on Route 38 two miles north of Bloomington, just north of the "Willis Hill" through which Route 38 passes.

The well was drilled by Robert Bennett, Stafford Rd., who has drilled wells at two points in Fayette County where the drill encountered trunks of trees buried by the glacier thousands of years ago.

The drill penetrated to a depth of 155 feet before encountering any stone. As I recall, bedrock is struck in that area around 70 to 90 feet.

For the most part the drill passed through a mixture of sand and earth, much hardpan, and near 155 feet struck a peculiar mixture much resembling quicksand, but which apparently contained some oil, so that it would not mix with water.

This unusual formation arose as much as 60 feet in the casing of the well overnight, and was removed with considerable difficulty. Bailing was tied to clear up the well, as some water was also found at 155 feet. The water continued muddy, however, so the drill was started downward once more, and encountered a layer of sandstone.

Striking sandstone so near the surface in Fayette County is a thing almost unheard of.

The sandstone was drilled through at 163 feet, when the limestone bedrock was encountered together with an abundance of good, clear water.

Apparently the sandstone was formed by a layer of sand in the bottom of the preglacial stream bed, far below the usual level of the Niagara Limestone bedrock.

It is known that such a preglacial stream bed crosses the county two or three miles south of Washington C. H., and the well just drilled is one of the deepest in the county before bedrock was encountered.

On the McLean land, Leesburg Rd., a mile southwest of this city, the drill went down 160 feet 45 years ago before bedrock was encountered. That also was probably in an old preglacial stream bed.

and in all likelihood the one which crosses south of the city.

WILD TURKEYS

This part of Ohio formerly was occupied by great numbers of wild turkeys, and the big birds were much sought after for their delicious meat, both by the Indians, the early settlers, and later the residents of this county until as late as 1870.

The last evidence I have heard as to when the wild turkeys were at the vanishing point in this area is that Clate Parrett, who lived near Parrett's Station, found wild turkey tracks in a woods a half mile south of his home, in 1870, but failed to find the turkey.

A few years ago while at Big Springs, near VanBuren, Mo., in the Ozark Mountains, I was told that wild turkeys still were found in that restricted area along with bobcats and other wildlife.

PAPER LAMPLIGHTERS

When matches were less abundant more than 50 years ago, a great many residents of this community used twisted strips of newspapers for lamplighters.

The paper was cut in strips an inch or more in width, and twisted into tubes six to 10 inches in length, and the larger end, when the twisting was finished, was crimped over to prevent the lighters from unrolling.

The small end of the lighters were lighted and in some instances a half dozen candles or kerosene lamps could be lighted from a single lamplighter before it was too short for further use.

These lamplighters usually were kept in a glass or china container something like an old spoonholder or celery holder, on the mantel, and when wanted for use, the small end was lighted from an open fire, or even from a candle or lamp that might be burning, at the time, and applied to where the next flame was to be started.

Recently I saw a container of these old paper lamplighters, made from gaily striped paper, on a chest of drawers.

"Lamplighters!" I exclaimed. "How did you know," the owner asked.

"When I was a boy I used to roll them myself," I told her.

TELEGRAPH 104 YEARS OLD

It has been 104 years since the first telegraph service was established in Washington C. H. Although the first line was built through the city between Cincinnati and Columbus as early as 1847, according to historians, it was in 1852 that service was established here.

B. F. Leland, who operated a telegraph office and notions store in the room now occupied by Bray's News and Sports Center, was in charge of the Western Union office here for many years.

In 1903 the Postal Telegraph established an office here, and Harry R. Rodecker for many years operated the office in conjunction with his news stand. Postal discontinued service here about 1920.

Reds Praise Ike As Man of Peace

LONDON (AP)—In messages of congratulation, Soviet Premier Nikolai Bulganin and President Klementi Y. Voroshilov yesterday praised President Eisenhower as a man of peace.

The tributes, on the occasion of President Eisenhower's re-election, were broadcast by Moscow radio. Bulganin said:

"You are known to us as a great statesman and leader of the U. S. A. who is striving for the relaxation of international tension and the establishment of peaceful and fruitful relations between all states and nations, as well as the establishment of such relations between our countries. We were and are supporters of the most fruitful and friendly relations between our nations and our states."

Bixlers Inspect Willard Murals

Mr. and Mrs. Floyd Bixler and son Sam, of Hiram, visited Washington C. H. Thursday, to inspect the Archibald M. Willard paintings in the Courthouse here. The trip was in connection with commercial tours being planned by the Bixlers which will include Washington C. H. so their clients may see the murals.

Bixler is the tour conductor who gave the first information leading to the discovery that the famous artist who painted "The Spirit of

"76," also did the murals in the Fayette County Courthouse.

The first Bixler tour which will stop here for an inspection of the paintings will arrive here in March.

The last evidence I have heard as to when the wild turkeys were at the vanishing point in this area is that Clate Parrett, who lived near Parrett's Station, found wild turkey tracks in a woods a half mile south of his home, in 1870, but failed to find the turkey.

A few years ago while at Big Springs, near VanBuren, Mo., in the Ozark Mountains, I was told that wild turkeys still were found in that restricted area along with bobcats and other wildlife.

PAPER LAMPLIGHTERS

When matches were less abundant more than 50 years ago, a great many residents of this community used twisted strips of newspapers for lamplighters.

The paper was cut in strips an inch or more in width, and twisted into tubes six to 10 inches in length, and the larger end, when the twisting was finished, was crimped over to prevent the lighters from unrolling.

The small end of the lighters were lighted and in some instances a half dozen candles or kerosene lamps could be lighted from a single lamplighter before it was too short for further use.

These lamplighters usually were kept in a glass or china container something like an old spoonholder or celery holder, on the mantel, and when wanted for use, the small end was lighted from an open fire, or even from a candle or lamp that might be burning, at the time, and applied to where the next flame was to be started.

Recently I saw a container of these old paper lamplighters, made from gaily striped paper, on a chest of drawers.

"Lamplighters!" I exclaimed. "How did you know," the owner asked.

"When I was a boy I used to roll them myself," I told her.

TELEGRAPH 104 YEARS OLD

It has been 104 years since the first telegraph service was established in Washington C. H. Although the first line was built through the city between Cincinnati and Columbus as early as 1847, according to historians, it was in 1852 that service was established here.

B. F. Leland, who operated a telegraph office and notions store in the room now occupied by Bray's News and Sports Center, was in charge of the Western Union office here for many years.

In 1903 the Postal Telegraph established an office here, and Harry R. Rodecker for many years operated the office in conjunction with his news stand. Postal discontinued service here about 1920.

Reds Praise Ike As Man of Peace

LONDON (AP)—In messages of congratulation, Soviet Premier Nikolai Bulganin and President Klementi Y. Voroshilov yesterday praised President Eisenhower as a man of peace.

The tributes, on the occasion of President Eisenhower's re-election, were broadcast by Moscow radio. Bulganin said:

"You are known to us as a great statesman and leader of the U. S. A. who is striving for the relaxation of international tension and the establishment of peaceful and fruitful relations between all states and nations, as well as the establishment of such relations between our countries. We were and are supporters of the most fruitful and friendly relations between our nations and our states."

Bixlers Inspect Willard Murals

Mr. and Mrs. Floyd Bixler and son Sam, of Hiram, visited Washington C. H. Thursday, to inspect the Archibald M. Willard paintings in the Courthouse here. The trip was in connection with commercial tours being planned by the Bixlers which will include Washington C. H. so their clients may see the murals.

Bixler is the tour conductor who gave the first information leading to the discovery that the famous artist who painted "The Spirit of

'76," also did the murals in the Fayette County Courthouse.

The first Bixler tour which will stop here for an inspection of the paintings will arrive here in March.

Flight From Soviet Lands To Freedom, Grows

While it has attracted but little world notice, there is a strong significance in the flow of refugees from Soviet lands into Germany.

It was reported just recently that the millionth refugee from the Soviet sector of Berlin had crossed and been registered with one of the West German "expelle centers", although the event went almost unnoticed.

Newspaper observers say that every day thousands of East Germans cross into free territory, accounting for 12 million who have left the Soviet regions since 1945. There has been nothing quite like this in history and the situation seems to bear out the prediction that red revolt against slavery is inevitable under the present type of Russian governmental attempts to dominate satellites.

An official German report on the sustained flow of men, women, and children through the Iron Curtain asserts: "It is a continuing human problem to which no end is foreseeable." The first refugees were registered in West Berlin in 1949. When the communists relaxed the border watch in late 1953, the thin stream of freedom-seekers became a torrent; more than 300,000 fled to the West, the greatest number ever recorded in one year. Nevertheless, 105,000 more came in 1954, 16,-

000 in 1955, and so far this year 180,000 have fled from Red tyranny. The end is not yet.

"The entire movement of refugees to Berlin," observes the Bonn government, "is marked by its high percentage of children and young people under 25 years of age. More than 50 per cent of all refugees fall within this category, and the percentage has increased in recent months in spite of the economic incentives recently promised by Moscow and the introduction of military service in West Germany." Nothing, it seems, is more compelling than the promise of liberty.

It is true that the tide of refugees ebbs when the political tension in Europe and elsewhere relaxes. The Bonn government has found that whenever a crisis develops anywhere in the world — "be it in Egypt or Formosa"—additional thousands augment the normal daily influx of satellite peoples.

Fear drives many of the refugees to leave home and risk death in crossing borders. But the hope of freedom provides a greater lure. The young people of captive Europe, like young people everywhere, live much in the future. And their verdict on the future offered under communism is found in their increasing numbers among refugees crowding West Germany.

Beckon, Aigs for Brakefuss

NEW YORK (AP) — Nothing makes an American feel more like a stranger in his own land than to strike up a conversation with a man from another part of the country and suddenly realize he can't understand what the guy's saying.

A Texan driving through Brooklyn who stops and asks a native for directions can hardly believe his ears. Surely this must be a different language.

In a way it is. Brooklynese is one of many regional American languages. There are so many, in fact, that some bright publisher ought to come out with a verbal baedeker that will guide the hapless tourist safely through all the strange accents of his homeland, from Main French to Pennsylvania.

A step in this direction has just been taken by the Charleston (S. C.) News and Courier. It has just published a "Dictionary of Charlestonese," to help outsiders understand a form of English handed down since 1670 in the venerable port city which is to the old South roughly what Mecca is to the Moslems.

Columnist Ashley Coper, who compiled the dictionary, makes it clear that Charlestonians speak perfect English but many people from other sections do not.

That is why a Yankee visitor is completely lost when he hears a Charlestonian motorist ask, "Cain I police pack hair? I'd pre-shade it"—and receive the courteous answer, "coarse, ratch chair."

But it's really simple, and any one who had lived in Charleston only two generations would have no trouble understanding the exchange. The motorist asked, "Can I please park here. I'd appreciate it." And he was told, "Certainly. Right here."

Here, skipping from A toward Z, are a few typical examples of Charlestonese and how they can be translated by the trained ear: Abode—wooden plank. A boot—approximately. Balks—a container, such as a match balks. Barter—something to spread on bread.

Beckon—meat from a pig, often eaten with aigs for brakefuss. Caller—part of a shirt that goes around the neck.

Cane chew—aren't you able to i. e., "cane chew talk like a good Charlestonian?"

Save the United Nations

I am told by the United World Federalists of New Jersey Inc., to save the United Nations. Automatically, the thought would not have occurred to me. Institutions such as the United Nations, live or die in accordance with the course of events and not because a group in Newark or some other place wants to save it from extinction.

If it cannot survive on its own strength, why save it?

The United Nations cannot deal with the major questions that face mankind under the terms of its present charter. True, as the United World Federalists of New Jersey say, "The U. S. is dying because it lacks authority to settle disputes among its members."

No truer statement could be made. But we are now witnessing the occupation of member countries by Soviet troops who are shooting down the people like clay pigeons. And we witness a war in the Middle East involving four member states.

Realistically the United Nations is unable to maintain the peace as long as the international Communist movement exists. For actually that international Communist movement is also a United Nations and it functions with some of the authority which these United World Federalists of New Jersey would give to the United Nations. At the same time, the Russians use the veto in the Security Council in pursuit of Russian policy. Of the two united nations, the one whose headquarters is in the Kremlin seems to have more authority over its members than the one that sits on the banks of the East River, although after the Hungarian and Polish rebellions conditions may change that somewhat.

The New Jerseyites want for the United Nations "An international force and national disarmament thru (that's the way they spell it) the U. N. are essentials of world peace." But under present conditions such an international force could only be used as Soviet Russia permitted because Soviet Russia is one of five nations that, under the Charter, may use the veto freely, and Soviet Russia does use it freely.

As for disarmament, since 1945 the United States has been striving to find some uniform and decent way of taking the A-bomb and ultimately the H-bomb out of war. Such a proposal can only be practical if international control and inspection are accepted. Soviet Russia has consistently rejected every practical proposal for inspection from the Baruch plan in 1946 to the Eisenhower proposal of 1955. Precisely how do these gentlemen and ladies from New Jersey expect to get the Russians to accept inspection if Baruch failed with Molotov and Eisenhower failed with Khrushchev? Maybe the United World Federalists of New Jersey, Inc., have a plan which they believe can work, but there is no evidence at hand which would indicate that the Russians will accept any plan which involves inspection.

That has been the weakness of Adlai Stevenson's campaign speeches against the H-bomb. This column was probably the first which published accounts of the dangers of radioactive strontium in the fall-out of H-bombs. But while such dangers exist, no one has come up with a plan for stopping tests of H-bombs by the United States which would guarantee that the Russians would also stop tests.

As the Stevenson proposition stands, no matter how it is worded, it comes down to a unilateral action by the United States. Bulganin's letter to Eisenhower did not change that, as Bulganin did not propose a plan for inspection and control.

Without international inspection, it is impossible to trust the Russians and that also is based upon their habit of violating treaties and agreements which cease to please them. The point is, that while the United World Federalists of New Jersey, Inc., express noble ideas, so did Confucius and Isaiah and others, but the problem always is to make an ideal work and that is not so easy. Virtue, we know all about, but the practice of virtue is a tough enterprise for anyone who undertakes it.

The U. N. will not die because even conflicting nations find it useful as an international vent, but it is not likely that much will be done to rectify the faults in the charter or to give the United Nations Organization, which is its true name, real authority over its members. Potatoes on Menu Increase Energy

By HERMAN N. BUNDESEN

Nutritionists agree with you economy-minded housewives—potatoes are a good food buy.

Most of you homemakers are well aware that potatoes are filling. They are a cheap way of satisfying those greedy appetites of your family.

But the lowly spud also is a good energy food. And it need not be fattening.

High On List

United States Department of Agriculture nutritionists rate potatoes high on the list of energy-giving foods.

From only one medium-sized potato, cooked plain, you can obtain a quarter of your daily vitamin C needs, some of the B vitamins, some iron, and other valuable minerals.

If you have a problem keeping your weight down, I suggest you eat baked or boiled potatoes instead of mashed, whipped, fried or hash-browned spuds.

Additional Calorie: Milk, cream and sometimes fat are added to mashed and whipped potatoes. It makes them more tasty, but it also adds calories. The fat used in preparing fried and browned potatoes means additional calories, too.

On the other hand, a medium-sized boiled or baked potato, served without fat, contains only about 100 calories. Adding butter or gravy, of course, boosts the calorie total.

Buying and Storing

Here are some tips to follow when buying and storing potatoes.

Don't buy those which have a greenish color on the skins. They usually have a very bitter taste.

Late crop potatoes, incidentally, will keep better than others. For best results, store them in temperatures ranging between 40 and 60 degrees Fahrenheit.

And remember, potatoes that are cracked or bruised should be the first ones used.

Congress Committee Chief

Lineup To Stay about Same

WASHINGTON (AP) — The new Democratic-controlled Congress convening Jan. 3 will have new chairmen of both Senate and House committees dealing with international affairs.

Otherwise President Eisenhower will be working with most of the same committee heads. Some have largely supported his efforts; others have opposed them.

Most committee chairmen in the next session again will come from the South. Southerners are in line for 8 of the 15 Senate chairmanships and 12 of the 19 House posts.

Veteran Walter George (D-Ga.), dean of the Senate, is leaving that body after 34 years and thus relinquishing his job as head of the Foreign Relations Committee. It will go to 89-year-old Theodore Francis Green (D-R.I.), oldest man ever to serve in the Senate.

In the House, Chairman James P. Richards (D-SC) of the Foreign Affairs Committee also is retiring. Rep. Thomas S. Gordon (D-Ill.) is in line to succeed him.

The administration received strong support from these Democratic-led committees in the last two years; on most foreign affairs questions, and can look for this generally to continue.

Also, such chairmen as Sen. Byrd (D-Va.) of the Finance Committee are expected to continue their backing of the President on most issues.

Sen. Lister Hill (D-Ala.), chairman of the Labor and Public Welfare Committee, can be expected to fight hard for a school construction bill along the lines the administration wants, provided no antisegregation provision is attached to it.

On the other hand, administration civil rights legislation is certain to get a frigid reception from Sen. James Eastland (D-Miss.), chairman of the Judiciary Com-

The three newspapers, the Cleveland Press, News and Plain Dealer, have not published for nine days. The current series of contract talks between management representatives and the Cleveland Newspaper Guild started Wednesday when the mayor called in both sides.

Flight From Soviet Lands To Freedom, Grows

While it has attracted but little world notice, there is a strong significance in the flow of refugees from Soviet lands into Germany.

It was reported just recently that the millionth refugee from the Soviet sector of Berlin had crossed and been registered with one of the West German "expelle centers", although the event went almost unnoticed.

Newspaper observers say that every day thousands of East Germans cross into free territory, accounting for 12 million who have left the Soviet regions since 1945. There has been nothing quite like this in history and the situation seems to bear out the prediction that red revolt against slavery is inevitable under the present type of Russian governmental attempts to dominate satellites.

An official German report on the sustained flow of men, women, and children through the Iron Curtain asserts: "It is a continuing human problem to which no end is foreseeable." The first refugees were registered in West Berlin in 1949. When the communists relaxed the border watch in late 1953, the thin stream of freedom-seekers became a torrent: more than 300,000 fled to the West, the greatest number ever recorded in one year. Nevertheless, 105,000 more came in 1954, 16-

000 in 1955, and so far this year 180,000 have fled from Red tyranny. The end is not yet.

"The entire movement of refugees to Berlin," observes the Bonn government, "is marked by its high percentage of children and young people under 25 years of age. More than 50 per cent of all refugees fall within this category, and the percentage has increased in recent months in spite of the economic incentives recently promised by Moscow and the introduction of military service in West Germany." Nothing, it seems, is more compelling than the promise of liberty.

It is true that the tide of refugees ebbs when the political tension in Europe and elsewhere relaxes. The Bonn government has found that whenever a crisis develops anywhere in the world — "be it in Egypt or Formosa"—additional thousands augment the normal daily influx of satellite peoples.

Fear drives many of the refugees to leave home and risk death in crossing borders. But the hope of freedom provides a greater lure. The young people of captive Europe, like young people everywhere, live much in the future. And their verdict on the future offered under communism is found in their increasing numbers among refugees crowding West Germany.

Beckon, Aigs for Brakefuss

By Hal Boyle

NEW YORK (AP) — Nothing makes an American feel more like a stranger in his own land than to strike up a conversation with a man from another part of the country and suddenly realize he can't understand what the guy's saying.

A Texan driving through Brooklyn who stops and asks a native for directions can hardly believe his ears. Surely this must be a different language.

In a way it is. Brooklynese is one of many regional American languages. There are so many, in fact, that some bright publisher ought to come out with a verbal baedeker that will guide the hapless tourist safely through all the strange accents of his homeland, from Main French to Pennsylvania.

A step in this direction has just been taken by the Charleston (S. C.) News and Courier. It has just published a "Dictionary of Charlestonese," to help outsiders understand a form of English handed down since 1670 in the venerable port city which is the old South roughly what Mecca is to the Moslems.

Columnist Ashley Coper, who compiled the dictionary, makes it clear that Charlestonians speak perfect English but many people from other sections do not.

That is why a Yankee visitor is completely lost when he hears a Charlestonian motorist ask, "Cain I police pack hair? I'd pre-shade it"—and receive the courteous answer, "coarse, rach chair."

But it's really simple, and any one who had lived in Charleston only two generations would have no trouble understanding the exchange. The motorist asked, "Can I please park here. I'd appreciate it." And he was told, "Certainly. Right here." Here, skipping from A toward Z, are a few typical examples of Charlestonese and how they can be translated by the trained ear: Abode—wooden plank. A boot—approximately. Balks—a container, such as a match balks. Barter—something to spread on bread. Beckon—meat from a pig, often eaten with aigs for brakefuss. Caller—part of a shirt that goes around the neck. Cane chew—aren't you able to i. e., "cane chew talk like a good Charlestonian?"

Save the United Nations

I am told by the United World Federalists of New Jersey Inc., to save the United Nations, automatically, the thought would not have occurred to me. Institutions such as the United Nations, live or die in accordance with the course of events and not because a group in Newark or some other place wants to save it from extinction.

If it cannot survive on its own strength, why save it?

The United Nations cannot deal with the major questions that face mankind under the terms of its present charter. True, as the United World Federalists of New Jersey say, "The U. S. is dying because it lacks authority to settle disputes among its members."

No truer statement could be made. But we are now witnessing the occupation of member countries by Soviet troops who are shooting down the people like clay pigeons. And we witness a war in the Middle East involving four member states.

Realistically the United Nations is unable to maintain the peace as long as the international Communist movement exists. For actually that international Communist movement is also a United Nations and it functions with some of the authority which these United World Federalists of New Jersey would give to the United Nations. At the same time, the Russians use the veto in the Security Council in pursuit of Russian policy. Of the two united nations, the one whose headquarters is in the Kremlin seems to have more authority over its members than the one that sits on the banks of the East River, although after the Hungarian and Polish rebellions conditions may change that somewhat.

The New Jerseyites want for the United Nations "An international force and national disarmament thru (that's the way they spell it) the U. N. are essentials of world peace." But under present conditions such an international force could only be used as Soviet Russia permitted because Soviet Russia is one of five nations that, under the Charter, may use the veto freely, and Soviet Russia does use it freely.

As for disarmament, since 1946, the United States has been striving to find some uniform and decent way of taking the A-bomb and ultimately the H-bomb out of war. Such a proposal can only be practical if international control and inspection are accepted. Soviet Russia has consistently rejected every practical proposal for inspection from the Baruch plan in 1946 to the Eisenhower proposal of 1955. Precisely how do these gentlemen and ladies from New Jersey expect to get the Russians to accept inspection if Baruch failed with Molotov and Eisenhower failed with Khrushchev? Maybe the United World Federalists of New Jersey, Inc., have a plan which they believe can work, but there is no evidence at hand which would indicate that the Russians will accept any plan which involves inspection.

That has been the weakness of Adlai Stevenson's campaign speeches against the H-bomb. This column was probably the first which published accounts of the dangers of radioactive strontium in the fall-out of H-bombs. But while such dangers exist, no one has come up with a plan for stopping tests of H-bombs by the United States which would guarantee that the Russians would also stop tests.

Potatoes on Menu Increase Energy

By HERMAN N. BUNDESEN

Nutritionists agree with you economy-minded housewives — potatoes are a good food buy.

Most of you homemakers are well aware that potatoes are filling. They are a cheap way of satisfying those greedy appetites of your family.

But the lowly spud also is a good energy food. And it need not be fattening.

High On List

United States Department of Agriculture nutritionists rate potatoes high on the list of energy-giving foods.

From only one medium-sized potato, cooked plain, you can obtain a quarter of your daily vitamin C needs, some of the B vitamins, some iron, and other valuable minerals.

If you have a problem keeping your weight down, I suggest you eat baked or boiled potatoes instead of mashed, whipped, fried or hash-browned spuds.

Additional Calories: Milk, cream and some times

fat are added to mashed and whipped potatoes. It makes them more tasty, but it also adds calories. The fat used in preparing fried and browned potatoes means additional calories, too.

On the other hand, a medium-sized boiled or baked potato, served without fat, contains only about 100 calories. Adding butter or gravy, of course, boosts the calorie total.

Buying and Storing

Here are some tips to follow when buying and storing potatoes.

Don't buy those which have a greenish color on the skins. They usually have a very bitter taste.

Late crop potatoes, incidentally, will keep better than others. For best results, store them in temperatures ranging between 40 and 60 degrees Fahrenheit.

And remember, potatoes that are cracked or bruised should be the first ones used.

QUESTION AND ANSWER

S. R.: My daughter, who is an epileptic, is about to be married. Is this disease hereditary?

Answer: This disease apparently is not hereditary in most instances.

Grab Bag

The Answer Quick

1. In what state is Centre College situated?
2. What member of the American expedition into Mexico in pursuit of Pancho Villa attained the greatest distinction in World War I?
3. Can you give the next line after, "Much have I traveled in the realm of gold"?
4. Who was emperor of France during the Franco-Prussian War of 1870?
5. What have these in common: margrave, wazir, bey, cham, hetman?

Your Future

You should achieve a great deal by your devotion to your work, but be careful and restrained with associates and refuse to take needless risks. Today's child may be endowed with a great deal of personal charm and attractiveness. Early training in consideration for the feelings of others, would prevent envious feelings.

Congress Committee Chief Lineup To Stay about Same

WASHINGTON (AP) — The new Democratic-controlled Congress convening Jan. 3 will have new chairmen of both Senate and House committees dealing with international affairs.

Otherwise President Eisenhower will be working with most of the same committee heads. Some have largely supported his efforts; others have opposed them.

Most committee chairmen in the next session again will come from the South. Southerners are in line for 8 of the 15 Senate chairmanships and 12 of the 19 House posts.

Veteran Walter George (D-Ga.), dean of the Senate, is leaving that body after 34 years and thus relinquishing his job as head of the Foreign Relations Committee. It will go to 89-year-old Theodore Francis Green (D-R.I.), oldest man ever to serve in the Senate.

In the House, Chairman James P. Richards (D-SC) of the Foreign Affairs Committee also is retiring. Rep. Thomas S. Gordon (D-Ill.) is in line to succeed him.

The administration received strong support from these Democratic-led committees in the last two years on most foreign affairs questions, and can look for this generally to continue.

Also, such chairmen as Sen. Byrd (D-Va.) of the Finance Committee are expected to continue their backing of the President on most issues.

Sen. Lister Hill (D-Ala.), chairman of the Labor and Public Welfare Committee, can be expected to fight hard for a school construction bill along the lines the administration wants, provided no antisegregation provision is attached to it.

On the other hand, administration civil rights legislation is certain to get a frigid reception from Sen. James Eastland (D-Miss), chairman of the Judiciary Com-

Mayor, Newspaper Factions Meeting

CLEVELAND (AP) — Mayor Anthony J. Celebrezze has asked company and union negotiators in Cleveland's newspaper shutdown to return to his offices today "prepared for night sessions."

The mayor said after three hours of talks Thursday that he felt "definite progress has been made."

The three newspapers, the Cleveland Press, News and Plain Dealer, have not published for nine days. The current series of contract talks between management representatives and the Cleveland Newspaper Guild started Wednesday when the mayor called in both sides.

House Commerce — Rep. Oren Harris (D-Ark.) will succeed the late Percy Priest (D-Tenn.). Senate Rules — Sen. Thomas C. Hennings (D-Mo.) probably will succeed Green.

GRACE of the IBIS

...a thing of beauty, grace and perfection! A symbol of perfect freedom! This Ibis is free from the cruel fetters of earth...free to soar the ethereal sky. Your soul can have the same graceful beauty and rhythmic freedom.

Though we may fail to acquire this imperious grace, the knowledge of its existence will bring us into closer communion with Him. Why not free yourself from the noise and confusion of men and sit with God for a while? See Him in the Ibis and a million other things round about. Turn aside to the quiet sanctuary of your church. Let your spirit soar into a higher and cleaner moral atmosphere. Dare every week to explore the silent halls of space and think God's thoughts after Him...go to church.

YOU IN THE CHURCH THE CHURCH IN YOU
Character is a by-product of the church. It is here that young and old alike are showered with benedictions stronger democracy. In the church the ministerial are molding religious character. Statesmen today declare that the church alone can furnish leadership to handle the affairs of state in these perilous times. Then we on Sunday, "You in the Church and the Church in you" form a combination for good. Be a regular CHURCH-GOER and a daily BIBLE READER.

GRACE of the IBIS

... a thing of beauty, grace and perfection! A symbol of perfect freedom! This Ibis is free from the cruel fetters of earth... free to soar the ethereal sky. Your soul can have the same graceful beauty and rhythmic freedom.

Though we may fail to acquire this imperious grace, the knowledge of its existence will bring us into closer communion with Him. Why not free yourself from the noise and confusion of men and sit with God for a while? See Him in the Ibis and a million other things round about. Turn aside to the quiet sanctuary of your church. Let your spirit soar into a higher and cleaner moral atmosphere. Dare every week to explore the silent halls of space and think God's thoughts after Him... go to church.

Nurses Hold Regular Meeting Thursday Evening

The November meeting of the Fayette County Professional Nurses Association was held Thursday evening at the home of Mrs. Mary in Rossmann.

Mrs. Ralph Douglas, president, called the meeting to order, and the devotions were led by Mrs. Robert Weeks.

Mrs. Charles Shaper, program chairman, presented Mrs. Ruth Doan, of Greenfield, cellist, who was accompanied by Mrs. Charles Shadrach, in four lovely musical selections.

Mrs. Shaper also introduced Miss Iris Mae Gaut, who gave a most interesting talk on the subject "Turning the Pages of a Nurse's Life," using her sister, Miss Dorothy Gaut, as her subject, to relate experiences both pleasant and harrowing in her chosen profession as a nurse for many years.

Mrs. Doan presented another group of selections and the business session consisted of roll call which was responded to by members who named their favorite food.

The minutes of the October meeting was given by Miss Florence Purcell, and was followed by the annual report and the treasurer's report by Mrs. William Lucas who also gave her annual report.

The reports of all standing reports were also heard and Miss Christine Evans, announced that the members would sponsor the December Blood Bank at the First Christian Church, Monday, Dec. 3.

Mrs. Lee Rowe, president-elect, announced her subordinate officers for the coming year and also members of her standing committees.

The meeting was adjourned and during the social hour a sandwich and dessert course was served by the hostess, assisted by Mrs. Frank Sollars, Mrs. James Cummings, and Mrs. Charles Shaper.

Browning Club Hears Papers On Religion

The November meeting of Browning Club at the home of Mrs. Emerson Chapman, was in observance of the 60th anniversary of this literary club, and the topic for the coming year's study is "Religions of the World."

Mrs. Willard Bitzer, president, conducted the business session and presented Mrs. Jane Grillo, chairman of the art department, who announced the subject for the evening "Reflections in a Work of Art."

Mrs. Grillo presented Mrs. Frank Mayo, who gave a most interesting paper built around the subject and prefaced her talk with the reading of the poem "My Master's Face," in the presence of the study of the Christian religion.

The Transfiguration was explained in detail as Mrs. Mayo displayed a reproduction of this famous painting by Raphael.

Mrs. Mayo told of "The Transfiguration," now hanging in the Vatican Gallery, in Rome, which was originally done by Raphael on the order of Cardinal Giuliano de Medici as an altar piece for the cathedral at Narbonne, France, and was his last work in 1520 which was hardly finished before his death in 1520.

It is now classed as a memorial to the artist's fame and also to the artistic service he had rendered to the Roman Catholic Church.

The three distinct levels shown in the picture have been likened by some art critics to the three stages of man.

In the study of another religion, Mrs. Mayo explained Buddhism and in showing pictures of Buddha, she remarked that the aim of the religion was not so much morality as knowledge and enlightenment.

The Golden Buddha in Bangkok's great war Bovornives Monastery, is worshipped by a group of yellow robed monks during a ceremony in which they confess their sins as Buddha gazes downward in meditation, the image is in a position with right hand pointing earthward which he was supposed to have taken when he called on the earth to witness the steadfastness of his aim.

Buddha believed that existence was a sorrow and an evil, but he taught the people that salvation should be sought through a change of heart, not by sacrifice, ceremonies and self torture and the poorest outcast was encouraged to seek the benefits of his teachings.

It has been said of the moral code of Buddhism that for pureness, excellence and wisdom is second only to Christianity.

Mrs. Herbert Perrill explained and displayed reproductions of three famous paintings "The Immaculate Conception," by Mivillo; "The Sistine Madonna," by Raphael, and "The Last Supper," by Leonardo Da Vinci.

She also displayed ten different paintings of the "Virgin and Child" from the Pittman Gallery and explained the beauty and religious art brought out in each of these masterpieces.

The interpretation of art by Mrs. Mayo and Mrs. Perrill as related to religion was both thorough, provoking and inspirational and most earnestly appreciated by the intensely interested members.

Golden Wedding Anniversary Of Couple To Be Celebrated

MR. AND MRS. IRA CASSELL

Mr. and Mrs. Ira Cassell will celebrate their golden wedding anniversary, Sunday Nov. 11 at their home, 522 Peddicord Ave., and they are extending a cordial invitation to their relatives and friends to call between the hours of one and four o'clock in the afternoon when they will entertain at open house.

Mr. and Mrs. Cassell were married in Elliott County, Kentucky, Nov. 7, 1906 and they have seven children, Mrs. Thomas Hicks, of New Martinsburg, Clarence and Joseph of this city, Denzel and Bill, Mrs. Ernest Blair, Mrs. Ina Newell all of Dayton; twenty grandchildren and fourteen great-grandchildren.

Mr. and Mrs. Cassell are natives of Elliott County, Kentucky and have lived in this community for the past fourteen years. Mr. Cassell is employed as a clerk at the Roy Baker grocery.

Circle Meeting Is Held at Leader's Home

Circle 3 of the Woman's Association of First Presbyterian Church met at the home of the leader, Mrs. Hazel K. Devins, with ten members present.

Tempting seasonal refreshments were served by the hostess and her committee preceding the meeting.

Mrs. Devins called the meeting and offered prayer, which was followed with a reading from the Year Book of Prayer.

The usual reports were given and the Bible study, taken from the tenth chapter of Ephesians was in charge of Mrs. Howard Perrill, and very ably given.

The program led by Mrs. Leo Edwards, who used as her topic for discussion "Thailand," telling of the great work Presbyterian Missionaries are doing in that country.

Round cards were sent to all members, Miss Metha Patton and Misses Etta and Grace McHenry.

The members discussed participation in the serving of a smorgasboard at the church Nov. 14.

The meeting was closed with the repeating of the Great Doxology.

Mrs. Devins had as assisting hostesses Mrs. C. H. Thoroman, Mrs. Herbert Wilson, and Mrs. Perse Harlow.

DAR Plans Regular Meeting

On Wednesday, Nov. 14, the William Horney chapter Daughters of the American Revolution will meet in regular session at the home of Mrs. Marie Ensign in Jeffersonville at 2 p. m.

The program will be conducted by Mrs. Ensign, chapter chairman of the advancement of American music using the subject "American Folk Music," and she will be assisted by Mrs. S. C. Creamer.

All members are requested to bring sales tax stamps to the meeting also clothing to be sent to D.A.R. Approved Schools.

Assisting Mrs. Ensign will be: Mrs. Marie Thompson, Mrs. Ralph Dill, Mrs. John Robbins, Mrs. A. E. Kemp, Mrs. J. A. Wissler, Mrs. C. L. Culberson and Mrs. O. J. Glaze.

Mrs. Hurtt Gives Paper at Club Meeting

Mrs. Elza Woodruff, newly elected president of the Washington Garden Club, presided over the meeting held at the home of Mrs. Thomas N. Willis.

Mrs. Woodruff called the meeting to order and read "A Thanksgiving Poem".

The usual reports were heard and accepted and roll call was responded to by nineteen members.

A lengthy discussion was held on the Christmas at Home meeting at the Dayton Power and Light Club room, in which the club will participate and Mrs. Richard Curl, Mrs. Robert Wood and Mrs. Ray Bowers were appointed as a committee to decorate the tea table.

A demonstration in Christmas arrangements to be given at the Dayton Power and Light club room on Dec. 7 was announced and the annual Christmas party of the club

Personals

Mr. and Mrs. C. H. Thoroman returned Thursday from a few days visit in Manchester, where they were guests of Mrs. Thoroman's niece, Mrs. Roy H. Parr, Mr. Parr and family.

Mr. and Mrs. Robert Terhune, and daughter Sara, left Thursday for Atlanta, Georgia, where they will visit their son, Cadet Sidney Terhune and will also attend the football game Saturday afternoon between Georgia Tech and Tennessee.

Mr. William S. Paxson of New York City is visiting with his parents, Mr. and Mrs. W. Stanley Paxson.

Mr. Frank Forman and his sister, Miss Mary Forman of Dayton, returned home Thursday after spending the past few days as guests of Mr. and Mrs. Fred F. Russell.

Mr. and Mrs. B. E. Kelley were in Columbus Thursday night, for dinner at the Faculty Club at Ohio State University, honoring Karl H. Maslowski who presented the first of the Columbus Audubon Society's screen tours, "Outdoor Almanac," at the State Museum, following the dinner.

and gift exchange was set for Dec. 17.

The year books were distributed to the members and the resignation of Mrs. Thomas Martischinsky as secretary, was accepted with Mrs. William Summers chosen to fill this office.

Mrs. Woodruff had on display a most interesting box of flowers which she had preserved in borax which had retained their vivid coloring.

Mrs. Orville Hurtt gave a most interesting talk on "Modern Flower Arranging" and she spoke of modern flower arranging which implies difficulty, and is closely associated with modern art. She pointed out that fortunately the arrangement, with the best (or even the worst intention in the world) cannot possibly be in error as the artist, who uses canvas and paint. She also pointed out by comparison that the cleverest manipulation of blossoms and foliage, would fail in an attempt to make a melted chest time piece from a sunflower or a tulip. She also called attention to modern arrangements which command a great deal of interest a flower shows, but seldom have a merited place in home decorations.

At the close of this talk, Mrs. Willis assisted by Mrs. Frank Terrell, served light refreshments.

Mrs. Nelson Entertains Class Members

Nineteen members of the Open Circle Class of Grace Methodist Church assembled at the home of Mrs. D. B. Nelson for the November meeting, Thursday evening and one guest was included.

Mrs. Ethel Caldwell led in the opening devotion and chose as her topic "Thanksgiving" which included group singing, and each member read a passage of Scripture reading found in Psalms in keeping with the subject. Mrs. Caldwell read an interesting article on Thanksgiving and closed with prayer.

Miss Edna Thompson, president, conducted the business session during which the usual reports were given and appointed as a nominating committee, Mrs. Ruth Hopkins, Miss Helen Glascock and Mrs. Frank Mayo to choose officers for the coming year.

Plans for the annual Christmas Party to be held at the home of Miss Fannie McLean, Dec. 20, were discussed and the business meeting was adjourned.

During the social hour, Mrs. Nelson conducted a clever contest entitled "Thanksgiving Menus" which was won by Mrs. Frances Rife.

Later, tempting refreshments were served by Mrs. Nelson and her assisting hostesses, Mrs. Ethel Caldwell, Mrs. Ray Griffith, Mrs. Earl Scott and Mrs. Frank Mayo. Mrs. Perry Grimm was included as a guest.

Nurses Hold Regular Meeting Thursday Evening

The November meeting of the Fayette County Professional Nurses Association was held Thursday evening at the home of Mrs. Marvin Roszmann.

Mrs. Ralph Douglas, president, called the meeting to order, and the devotions were led by Mrs. Robert Weeks.

Mrs. Charles Shaper, program chairman, presented Mrs. Ruth Doan, of Greenfield, cellist, who was accompanied by Mrs. Charles Shadrach, in four lovely musical selections.

Mrs. Shaper also introduced Miss Iris Mae Gaut, who gave a most interesting talk on the subject "Turning the Pages of a Nurse's Life," using her sister, Miss Dorothy Gaut, as her subject, to relate experiences both pleasant and harrowing in her chosen profession as a nurse for many years.

Mrs. Doan presented another group of selections and the business session consisted of roll call which was responded to by members who named their favorite food.

The minutes of the October meeting was given by Miss Florence Purcell, and was followed by the annual report and the treasurer's report by Mrs. William Lucas who also gave her annual report.

The reports of all standing reports were also heard and Miss Christine Evans, announced that the members would sponsor the December Blood Bank at the First Christian Church, Monday, Dec. 3.

Mrs. Lee Rowe, president-elect, announced her subordinate officers for the coming year and also members of her standing committees.

The meeting was adjourned and during the social hour a sandwich and dessert course was served by the hostess, assisted by Mrs. Frank Sollars, Mrs. James Cummings, and Mrs. Charles Shaper.

Browning Club Hears Papers On Religion

The November meeting of Browning Club at the home of Mrs. Emerson Chapman, was in observance of the 60th anniversary of this literary club, and the topic for the coming year's study is "Religions of the World."

Mrs. Willard Bitzer, president, conducted the business session and presented Mrs. Jane Grillo, chairman of the art department, who announced the subject for the evening "Reflections In a Work of Art."

Mrs. Grillo presented Mrs. Frank Mayo, who gave a most interesting paper built around the subject and prefaced her talk with the reading of the poem "My Master's Face," in the presenting of the study of the Christian religion.

The Transfiguration was explained in detail as Mrs. Mayo displayed a reproduction of this famous painting by Raphael.

Mrs. Mayo told of "The Transfiguration," now hanging in the Vatican Gallery, in Rome, which was originally done by Raphael on the order of Cardinal Giuliano de Medici as an altar piece for the cathedral at Narbonne, France, and was his last work in 1520 which was hardly finished before his death in 1520.

It is now classed as a memorial to the artist's fame and also to the artistic service he had rendered to the Roman Catholic Church.

The three distinct levels shown in the picture have been likened by some art critics to the three stages of man.

In the study of another religion, Mrs. Mayo explained Buddhism and in showing pictures of Buddha, she remarked that the aim of the religion was not so much morality as knowledge and enlightenment.

The Golden Buddha in Bangkok's great war Bovornives Monastery, is worshipped by a group of yellow robed monks during a ceremony in which they confess their sins as Buddha gazes downward in meditation, the image is in a position with right hand pointing earthward which he was supposed to have taken when he called on the earth to witness the steadfastness of his aim.

Buddha believed that existence was a sorrow and an evil, but he taught the people that salvation should be sought through a change of heart, not by sacrifice, ceremonies and self torture and the poorest outcast was encouraged to seek the benefits of his teachings.

It has been said of the moral code of Buddhism that for pureness, excellence and wisdom is second only to Christianity.

Mrs. Herbert Perrill explained and displayed reproductions of three famous paintings "The Immaculate Conception," by Mivillo; "The Sistine Madonna," by Raphael, and "The Last Supper," by Leonardo Da Vinci.

She also displayed ten different paintings of the "Virgin and Child" from the Pitman Gallery and explained the beauty and religious art brought out in each of these masterpieces.

The interpretation of art by Mrs. Mayo and Mrs. Perrill as related to religion was both thorough, provoking and inspirational and most earnestly appreciate by the intensely interested members.

Mr. and Mrs. Cassell are natives of Elliott County, Kentucky and have lived in this community for the past fourteen years. Mr. Cassell is employed as a clerk at the Roy Baker grocery.

Circle Meeting Is Held at Leader's Home

Circle 3 of the Woman's Association of First Presbyterian Church met at the home of the leader, Mrs. Hazel K. Devins, with ten members present.

Tempting seasonal refreshments were served by the hostess and her committee preceding the meeting.

Mrs. Devins called the meeting and offered prayer, which was followed with a reading from the Year Book of Prayer.

The usual reports were given and the Bible study, taken from the tenth chapter of Ephesians was in charge of Mrs. Howard Perrill, and very ably given.

The program led by Mrs. Leo Edwards, who used as her topic for discussion "Thailand," telling of the great work Presbyterian Missionaries are doing in that country.

Round cards were sent to all members, Miss Metha Patton and Misses Etta and Grace McHenry.

The members discussed participation in the serving of a smorgasboard at the church Nov. 14.

The meeting was closed with the repeating of the Great Doxology.

Mrs. Devins had as assisting hostesses Mrs. C. H. Thoroman, Mrs. Herbert Wilson, and Mrs. Perse Harlow.

Mrs. Hurtt Gives Paper at Club Meeting

Mrs. Elza Woodruff, newly elected president of the Washington Garden Club, presided over the meeting held at the home of Mrs. Thomas N. Willis.

Mrs. Woodruff called the meeting to order and read "A Thanksgiving Poem".

The usual reports were heard and accepted and roll call was responded to by nineteen members.

A lengthy discussion was held on the Christmas at Home meeting at the Dayton Power and Light Club room, in which the club will participate and Mrs. Richard Curl, Mrs. Robert Wood and Mrs. Ray Bowers were appointed as a committee to decorate the tea table.

A demonstration in Christmas arrangements to be given at the Dayton Power and Light club room on Dec. 7 was announced and the annual Christmas party of the club

Personals

Mr. and Mrs. C. H. Thoroman returned Thursday from a few days visit in Manchester, where they were guests of Mrs. Thoroman's niece, Mrs. Roy H. Parr, Mr. Parr and family.

Mr. and Mrs. Robert Terhune, and daughter Sara, left Thursday for Atlanta, Georgia, where they will visit their son, Cadet Sidney Terhune and will also attend the football game Saturday afternoon between Georgia Tech and Tennessee.

Mr. William S. Paxson of New York City is visiting with his parents, Mr. and Mrs. W. Stanley Paxson.

Mr. Frank Forman and his sister, Miss Mary Forman of Dayton, returned home Thursday after spending the past few days as guests of Mr. and Mrs. Fred F. Russell.

Mr. and Mrs. B. E. Kelley were in Columbus Thursday night, for dinner at the Faculty Club at Ohio State University, honoring Karl H. Maslowski who presented the first of the Columbus Audubon Society's screen tours, "Outdoor Almanac," at the State Museum, following the dinner.

and gift exchange was set for Dec. 17.

The year books were distributed to the members and the resignation of Mrs. Thomas Martschinsky as secretary, was accepted with Mrs. William Summers chosen to fill this office.

Mrs. Woodruff had on display a most interesting box of flowers which she had preserved in borax which had retained their vivid coloring.

Mrs. Orville Hurtt gave a most interesting talk on "Modern Flower Arranging" and she spoke of modern flower arranging which implies difficulty, and is closely associated with modern art. She pointed out that fortunately the arranger, with the best (or even the worst intention in the world) cannot possibly be in error as the can artist, who uses canvas and paint. She also pointed out by comparison that the cleverest manipulation of blossoms and foliage, would fail in an attempt to make a melted chest time piece from a sunflower or a tulip. She also called attention to modern arrangements which command a great deal of interest a flower shows, but seldom have a merited place in home decorations.

At the close of this talk, Mrs. Willis assisted by Mrs. Frank Terrell, served light refreshments.

County School Consultant Named in $140 Recovery Suit

Fayette County Prosecutor John S. Bath has filed a $140 recovery suit against Dr. Graydon W. Yapple, dean of the faculty at Wilmington College, in connection with a state examiner's report on the office of the Fayette County Board of Education.

The action, filed in Clinton County Common Pleas Court, is based on payments made by the board to Dr. Yapple who is a part-time child psychology consultant for the Fayette County school system. A report on the examination of county board records said that no receipts were found for seven monthly payments of $20 each to Dr. Yapple during 1955 and 1956.

In seeking the judgment, Bath, filing in behalf of the Fayette

County board, declares in his petition that the "report sets forth that public money in the amount of $140 has been paid to the defendant and that the same has not been accounted for."

BATH FILED a similar recovery action for $3,564 against W. J. Hilty, Fayette County superintendent of schools, in connection with the same examiner's report which had listed board payments to the county superintendent, mostly for gas and oil expenses, as not properly supported by receipts.

Judge William Radcliff of Pickaway County, sitting by agreement, sustained the superintendent's demurrer to this suit, ruling that the prosecutor's petition did not state a cause of action.

WCH Concert Group Books Young Pianist

The 1956-57 concert program of the Washington C. H. Community Concert Assn. has been completed with the signing of the third artist, Miss Emanuelle Pizzuto, a young American pianist.

Miss Pizzuto, a striking brunette who is endowed with musical talent and technical ability, is to appear on the stage of the high school auditorium Jan. 16.

She is making her first solo concert tour this season, but she has appeared in many American cities with musical groups. She also has been featured on radio programs and was the solo pianist with the Companions of Song, a widely known French singing organization. She is a former pupil of Robert Casadesu, one of the great contemporary pianists.

THE TENTH anniversary season of the Washington C. H. association is to be open in the high school auditorium Nov. 23 by Rey and Gomez, a Spanish and Latin American dance team.

The series will close April 24 with the St. Louis Sinfonietta, a 21-piece concert orchestra.

Membership cards are to be mailed early next week to all members of the association here, according to Perse Harlow, executive secretary, in order that members may attend a musical program on the Chillicothe Concert Assn. series Nov. 15.

5 Youngsters Die As Fire Hits Home

SPOKANE, Wash. (P) — Five youngsters died in their blazing home Thursday night after the flames drove their mother screaming into the yard.

The bodies of Timmy, 2, Jack, 4, Laura, 6, Merle, 7, and Steven Lair, 9, were found in the ruins.

Mrs. Jackie Lair, 26, apparently was dozing on a couch in the front of the house when the fire broke out. She told hysterically of trying to reach the back bedroom and the stairs to the second floor. Flames drove her back. She was not injured but was in shock.

County School Consultant Named in $140 Recovery Suit

Fayette County Prosecutor John S. Bath has filed a $140 recovery suit against Dr. Graydon W. Yapple, dean of the faculty at Wilmington College, in connection with a state examiner's report on the office of the Fayette County Board of Education.

The action, filed in Clinton County Common Pleas Court, is based on payments made by the board to Dr. Yapple who is a part-time child psychology consultant at the Fayette County school system. A report on the examination of county board records said that no receipts were found for seven monthly payments of $20 each to Dr. Yapple during 1955 and 1956.

In seeking the judgment, Bath, filing in behalf of the Fayette

County board, declares in his petition that the "report sets forth that public money in the amount of $140 has been paid to the defendant and that the same has not been accounted for."

BATH FILED a similar recovery action for $3,564 against W. J. Hilty, Fayette County superintendent of schools, in connection with the same examiner's report which had listed board payments to the county superintendent, mostly for gas and oil expenses, as not properly supported by receipts.

Judge William Radcliff of Pickaway County, sitting by assignment, sustained the superintendent's demurrer to this suit, ruling that the prosecutor's petition did not state a cause of action.

WCH Concert Group Books Young Pianist

The 1956-57 concert program of the Washington C. H. Community Concert Assn. has been completed with the signing of the third artist, Miss Emmanuelle Pizzuto, a young American pianist.

Miss Pizzuto, a striking brunette who is endowed with musical talent and technical ability, is to appear on the stage of the high school auditorium Jan. 16.

She is making her first solo concert tour this season, but she has appeared in many American cities with musical groups. She also has been featured on radio programs and was the solo pianist with the Companions of Song, a widely known French singing organization. She is a former pupil of Robert Casadesu, one of the great contemporary pianists.

THE TENTH anniversary season of the Washington C. H. association is to be open in the high school auditorium Nov. 23 by Rey and Gomez, a Spanish and Latin American dance team.

The series will close April 24 with the St. Louis Sinfonietta, a 21-piece concert orchestra.

Membership cards are to be mailed early next week to all members of the association here, according to Perse Harlow, executive secretary, in order that members may attend a musical program on the Chillicothe Concert Assn. series Nov. 15.

5 Youngsters Die As Fire Hits Home

SPOKANE, Wash. (U. S. — (U.S.A.) —
Five youngsters died in their blazing home Thursday night after the flames drove their mother screaming into the yard.

The bodies of Timmy, 2, Jack, 4, Laura, 6, Merle, 7, and Steven, 9, were found in the ruins.

Mrs. Jackie Lair, 26, apparently was dozing on a couch in the front of the house when the fire broke out. She told hysterically of trying to reach the back bedroom and the stairs to the second floor. Flames drove her back. She was not injured but was in shock.

Ohio Collegiate Gridders Face Crucial Tests

4 Conference Titles Still Unsettled as Season Nears Finale

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—Eleven of Ohio's 35 collegiate football teams reach the end of the campaign this weekend—with championships in four of five conferences still unsettled.

The Mid-Ohio loop wound up last week, with Bluffton's Beavers—the state's lone unblemished team—taking the title.

The four entrants in the Presidents' Conference eschew league play this weekend, but the Big Ten, Mid-American and Ohio Conference contests are crucial.

In Thursday night's only Ohio collegiate game, Youngstown beat Gustavus Adolphus of Minnesota, 13-0, at Youngstown.

Ohio State, going after its 17th straight Eastern Conference victory against invading Indiana, is a three-touchdown favorite. But the Bucks must win to stay atop the league ladder and keep alive their hopes of an unprecedented third straight pennant.

Bowling Green, its foot inside the throne room door of the rugged Mid-American for the first time, can wrap up the laurels by beating Ohio University's Bobcats on the Falcon field.

The Bee-Gees, after last week's 7-7 deadlock with Miami, are tied with the defending champion Miami Redskins at 4-6-1 in the loop. The extra victory would give the title to the Falcons, but a tie or loss to the Bobcats, who trampled Western Michigan 27-0 last weekend, would give the crown back to Miami which has held it the last two seasons.

Back in 1953, Ohio University was in the same spot the Falcons now enjoy. They had tied Miami, and needed a victory over the Bee-Gees to take the championship. The Bobcats did it, 22-14.

Another big one finds Muskingum and Heidelberg fighting it out for the Ohio Conference crown at Tiffin in a night game. Muskingum is defending king, and can clinch the royal robes by winning for a 6-2-1 record. If Heidelberg is victorious, the Student Princes moved out front with a 4-1-0 mark.

But a Heidelberg victory would leave the issue somewhat up in the air, if Wittenberg is victorious over off-beaten Ohio Wesleyan. That would put the decision up to next week's game between Heidelberg and Akron, with the Princes needing a victory or tie to claim the championship. A Zipper win would hand the title to Wittenberg—beaten by both Heidelberg and Muskingum.

Bluffton, with a clean season in sight, winds up by playing Centre at Danville, Ky. Last season Bluffton lost 6 of 9 games.

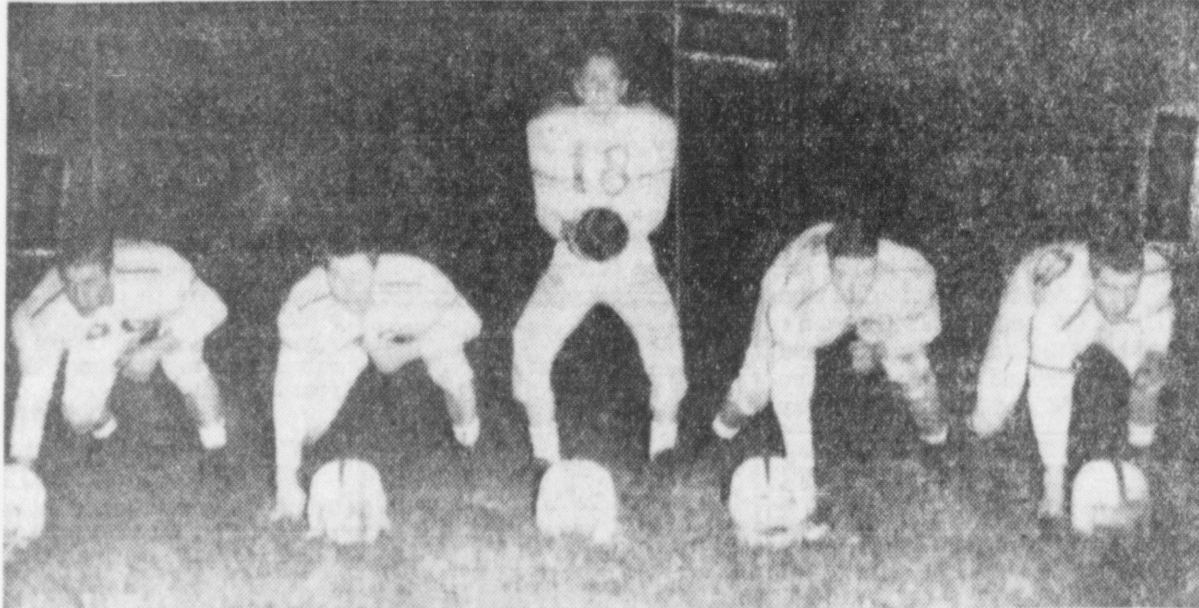

Others ending the campaign are Bowling Green, Muskingum, Wittenberg, Youngstown, Ohio Northern, Mount Union, Kenyon and Defiance. Wilmington and Ashland finished a week ago.

Ohio teams must finish with a flourish if they are to fare as well in interstate play as they have the last few years. The Buckeye clubs have won 40, lost 37 and tied 2 against outsiders this year, with 22 to play, against a 57-40-3 record in 1955. Thus the Ohioans must win 18, lost not more than 3 and tie 1 to better the mark of last season.

Several big interstate games are on this week's slate, including Saturday frays sending Xavier against Louisville, Wichita against Cincinnati, and Toledo against Marshall.

An eye-catcher between Ohio schools is the Dayton-Miami classic at Oxford. Other Saturday contests are Akron at Mount Union, Kenyon at Hiram, Capital at Wooster, Oberlin at Denison, Mar-

Lions Ready for Season's Finale Against Circleville Here Tonight

By ART BERMAN

Since Friday night's game is the last of the season, this reporter is going to go out on a limb with a prediction:

The Blue Lions will beat Circleville.

The Washington gridders are as ready as they ever will be. The team has had a rough year, but a lot of their troubles are behind them now.

From the start of the season, Coach Domenico's boys have been getting tough breaks, losing several good players because of injuries and changes in eligibility rules. The team has faced both physical and emotional barriers time after time. And they have not always been able to overcome them.

However, after a long season and a lot of good coaching and hard practice, the boys are ready to overcome inexperience and disappointments.

THE Washington team knows how to play football. Their trouble

Adios Harry Sets One-Year Money Mark

YONKERS, N. Y. (AP)—Adios Harry may race a time or two again this year, but the world champion will be sent to the farm shortly and retire for the season as the greatest one year money winning pacer.

J. Howard Lyons, Greenwood, Del. farmer, announced plans for the 5-year-old son of Adios—Helen Win after Adios Harry whipped seven of the world's fastest pacers Thursday night in the $75,000 Eastern Championship at Yonkers Raceway.

Luther Lyons, son of the owner, drove Adios Harry to a hard earned, 3/4 length victory over the west coast threat, Diamond Hal, owned by Sol Camp of Shafter, Calif. Third, another 3/4 of a length away, was Bachelor Hanover, a top 3-year-old sidewheeler owned by Hazel Rubin, Balston Spa, N. Y.

The victory, with Adios Harry leading most of the way on a track termed "good" after all-day show-ers, was worth $37,500 to the winner and shot his 1956 earnings to $128,162. This cracked the record of $110,299 set in 1952 by Good Time, beloved little pacer owned by the late Bill Cane.

St. Louis Hawk Ace Returns to Boards

Washington C. H. "children of all ages" will see a preview Friday night of Sunday's Cleveland Browns' half-time show. The WHS Marching Band will perform between halves of the pro football game Sunday.

But before they do they will give the home folks a chance to see the show, as they entertain at the Blue Lions - Circleville game.

The show will have a circus theme, with the band saluting America's vanishing institution, the "Big Top." The performers will start with an old-fashioned circus parade, and will demonstrate some traditional circus acts.

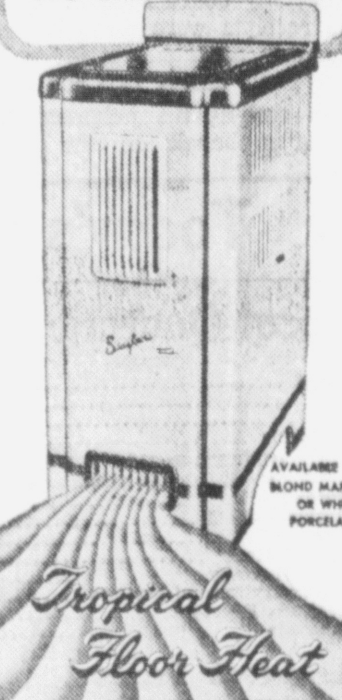

The entire band will form a dancing horse, and will then turn itself into a clown, 50 yards high and 20 yards wide. The clown will juggle six balls at the same time as the band plays "Over The Waves."

Then the musicians will play "The Man on the Flying Trapeze" as their formation becomes a graphic demonstration of that tune.

Finally the marchers will turn themselves into a circus wagon and will move downfield shortly before the lights dim in the center ring.

Ohio Collegiate Gridders Face Crucial Tests

4 Conference Titles Still Unsettled as Season Nears Finale

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—Eleven of Ohio's 35 collegiate football teams reach the end of the campaign this weekend—with championships in four of five conferences still unsettled.

The Mid-Ohio loop wound up last week, with Bluffton's Beavers—the state's lone unblemished team—taking the title.

The four entrants in the Presidents' Conference eschew league play this weekend, but the Big Ten, Mid-American and Ohio Conference contests are crucial.

In Thursday night's only Ohio collegiate game, Youngstown beat Gustavus Adolphus of Minnesota, 13-0, at Youngstown.

Ohio State, going after its 17th straight eastern conference victory against invading Indiana, is a three-touchdown favorite. But the Bucks must win to stay atop the league ladder and keep alive their hopes of an unprecedented third straight pennant.

Bowling Green, its foot inside the throne room door of the rugged Mid-American for the first time, can wrap up the laurels by beating Ohio University's Bobcats on the Falcon field.

The Bee-Gees, after last week's 7-7 deadlock with Miami, are tied with the defending champion Miami Redskins at 4-0-1 in the loop. The extra victory would give the title to the Falcons, but a tie or loss to the Bobcats, who trampled Western Michigan 27-0 last weekend, would give the crown back to Miami which has held it the last two seasons.

Back in 1953, Ohio University was in the same spot the Falcons now enjoy. They had tied Miami, and needed a victory over the Bee-Gees to take the championship. The Bobcats did it, 22-14.

Another big one finds Muskingum and Heidelberg fighting it out for the Ohio Conference crown at Tiffin in a night game. Muskingum is defending king, and can clinch the royal robes by winning for a 6-2-1 record. If Heidelberg is victorious, the Student Princes moved out front with a 4-1-0 mark.

But a Heidelberg victory would leave the issue somewhat up in the air, if Wittenberg is victorious over off-beaten Ohio Wesleyan. That would put the decision up to next week's game between Heidelberg and Akron, with the Princes needing a victory or tie to claim the championship. A Zipper win would hand the title to Wittenberg—beaten by both Heidelberg and Muskingum.

Bluffton, with a clean season in sight, winds up by playing Centre at Danville, Ky. Last season Bluffton lost 6 of 9 games.

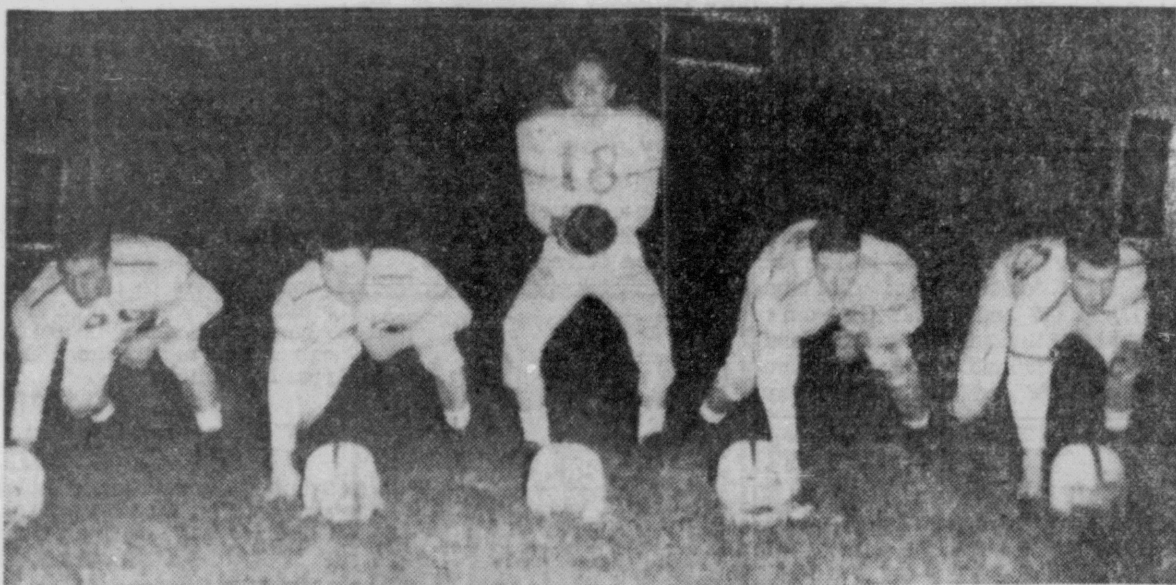

Others ending the campaign are Bowling Green, Muskingum, Wittenberg, Youngstown, Ohio Northern, Mount Union, Kenyon and Defiance. Wilmington and Ashland finished a week ago.

Ohio teams must finish with a flourish if they are to fare as well in interstate play as they have the last few years. The Buckeye clubs have won 40, lost 37 and tied 2 against outsiders this year, with 22 to play, against a 57-40-5 record in 1955. Thus the Ohioans must win 18, lost not more than 3 and tie 1 to better the mark of last season.

Several big interstate games are on this week's slate, including Saturday frays sending Xavier against Louisville, Wichita against Cincinnati, and Toledo against Marshall.

An eye-catcher between Ohio schools is the Dayton-Miami classic at Oxford. Other Saturday contests are Akron at Mount Union, Kenyon at Hiram, Capital at Wooster, Oberlin at Denison, Mar-

By ART BERMAN

Since Friday night's game is the last of the season, this reporter is going to go out on a limb with a prediction:

The Blue Lions will beat Circleville.

The Washington gridders are as ready as they ever will be. The team has had a rough year, but a lot of their troubles are behind them now.

From the start of the season, Coach Domenico's boys have been getting tough breaks, losing several good players because of injuries and changes in eligibility rules. The team has faced both physical and emotional barriers time after time. And they have not always been able to overcome them.

However, after a long season and a lot of good coaching and hard practice, the boys are ready to overcome inexperience and disappointments.

THE Washington team knows how to play football. Their trouble is that they have let down under pressure and forgotten what they needed most to know. But when they take the field against Circleville Friday night at Gardner Park, they will be a

Mantle Believes Ruth Unchallenged

TULSA, Okla. (AP)—Mickey Mantle, the New York Yankees' slugging centerfielder who came with in eight of Babe Ruth's record 60 home runs in a season, says "I doubt if it's ever broken."

Reviewing his great 1956 season, Mantle said that "I guess winning the triple batting crown was the biggest thrill I have ever had in baseball." The 25-year-old Commerce, Okla., comet hit .350, drove in 130 runs and slammed 52 homers after leading Ruth's record pace of 1927 most of the season.

Mantle confided all the talk about his chances of breaking the Babe's legendary mark never bothered him "because I never thought I would break it."

The boys want to show the home folks that they can do it. That's why they are going to win.

GRID NOTES — The victory, with Adios Harry leading most of the way on a track termed "good" after all-day showers, was worth $37,500 to the winner and shot his 1956 earnings to $128,162. This cracked the record of $110,299 set in 1952 by Good Time, beloved little pacer owned by the late Bill Cane.

Puerto Rican Set To Meet Filipino

NEW YORK (AP)—Miguel Berrios of Puerto Rico and Gabriel Elorde of the Philippines, a pair of busy little featherweights, provide an international touch to tonight's fight card here.

Berrios, a split decision winner over Elorde Aug. 22 at San Francisco, is an 8-5 favorite today.

The customers appear to like Berrios' work both in person and on the TV screen. He is a 5-foot-2 workman, deadly serious in his work, who wades in, taking punches to land one.

4 Bowl Game 'Semifinals' Seen on Saturday Schedule

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

The Rose, Orange, Cotton and Sugar bowls stage their semifinals Saturday as college football enters the stretch run for post-season bids, conference titles and All America recognition.

Virtually every section has a game which could be ranked the day's No. 1. But the choicest, perhaps, will be at Atlanta Ga., where Georgia Tech, ranked second in this week's Associated Press poll, meets Tennessee, ranked No. 3. It's a battle of unbeaten and the Southeastern Conference crown rides on this one — with both winner and loser likely to wind up in a 'New Year's Day bowl game (Sugar and Cotton), however.

That's no taffy pull sixth-ranked Minnesota and Iowa have in Minneapolis either. This one's for the Big Ten's berth in the Rose Bowl. It will be the national TV game of the day.

At Palo Alto, Calif., Stanford and Oregon State meet in a game that could decide the other Rose Bowl entry as the Pacific Coast Conference host.

The Orange Bowl tickets probably can be printed Saturday night. Colorado plays Missouri at Columbia, Mo., to name the Big Seven's representative to the Miami classic, while Clemson can pad its already fat bid as the Atlantic Coast Conference entry by beating Maryland.

And at Dallas, fifth-ranked Texas A&M and Southern Methodist play for what could be a giant step toward the Southwest Conference title and the league's host entry to the Cotton Bowl. The Aggies, however, have to shake NCAA probationary action to make it should they take the crown.

All of which pushes most members of the top 10 into unaccounted roles as lesser lights. Oklahoma, No. 1, casts the shadow of a 36-game winning streak over inept Iowa State, Michigan State, No. 5, plays Purdue; Ohio State, No. 7, meets Indiana; Syracuse, No. 9, tries Holy Cross; and Michigan, No. 10, plays Illinois. Miami (Fla.) No. 8, is idle.

In games tonight, it's Richmond at George Washington in a Southern Conference scrap; and South Oregon at Hawaii.

Georgia Tech, with a 12-game unbeaten streak that includes last year's 7-7 tie by Tennessee, definitely will have George Volkert running at right half against the Vols. After missing last week's 7-0 thriller against Duke because of a leg injury, Volkert impressed Coach Bobby Dodd so much in Thursday's drill he "may even start."

Tailback Johnny Majors is Tennessee's big man, a 5-10 ball of fire who plays as though he invented the pass-run option.

With Ohio State and Michigan State ineligible for the Rose Bowl, Minnesota could virtually nail its first trip to the Pasadena classic by defeating Iowa. The Gophers are unbeaten but once-tied (0-0 by Northwestern), while Iowa, still in on the bowl battle, has lost only to Michigan. It's Minnesota's Bobby Cox against Hawkeye Kenny Ploen, a pair of quarterbacks.

Oregon State got its foot in the door when UCLA upset Stanford last week, but the Beavers will have to dam up passes: John Brodie to make it pay off.

Hitting the others lightly: Oklahoma hasn't lost to Iowa State since 1931, and hasn't been scored upon by the Cyclones since 1951. It was 52-0 last time. . . . Michigan State is a three- TD favorite, with Purdue's passing Len Dawson and end Bob Kneale doubtful starters because of injuries. . . . Hoosier Coach Bernie Crummins said Indiana looked "very unsatisfactory" in drills for Ohio State. The Buckeyes have won 16 in a row in the Big 10. . . .

Other leading attractions include Navy at Duke, Notre Dame at Pittsburgh, UCLA at Washington and California at Southern California.

Olympic Officials Unhappy As 'Politics' Enters Picture

MELBOURNE, Australia (AP) — Officials of the Olympic Games said today they are "stunned" and "bitterly disappointed" that politics are creeping in to spoil the great sports spectacle.

Commenting on recurring withdrawals from the games, the latest being Switzerland, W. S. Kent-Hughes, chairman of the organizing committee, said:

"Politics are a matter for the government. Sports should be something apart and should set an example for friendliness among nations."

"These Olympics should set a shining light for warring nations and show that men can compete on the fields in friendly rivalry. You cannot get over an idea by punching a man in the jaw."

The executive officer of the games, Lt. Gen. Sir William Bridgeford, said he is sorry to see countries, especially small countries, "swayed from the great Olympic ideal by politics."

"This is a bitter disappointment to us naturally, since we have made such exhaustive preparations and sought to hold the games in the true Olympic spirit," he added.

The president of the U.S. Olympic Committee, Kenneth Wilson, said:

"I would like to see all nations reconsider their action and come back into the games as an example to the rest of the world that men can live and play beside each other in peace," he declared.

In addition to Switzerland, other countries to withdraw are Spain, the Netherlands, Iraq, Red China and Egypt.

Denmark, Norway, Belgium and Luxembourg may also withdraw.

In this bustling, gayly festooned south Australian metropolis and the swelling Olympic village, it is difficult to feel the full impact of the withdrawals.

Melbourne officials are resolutely going ahead with preparations for the games opening on Nov. 22.

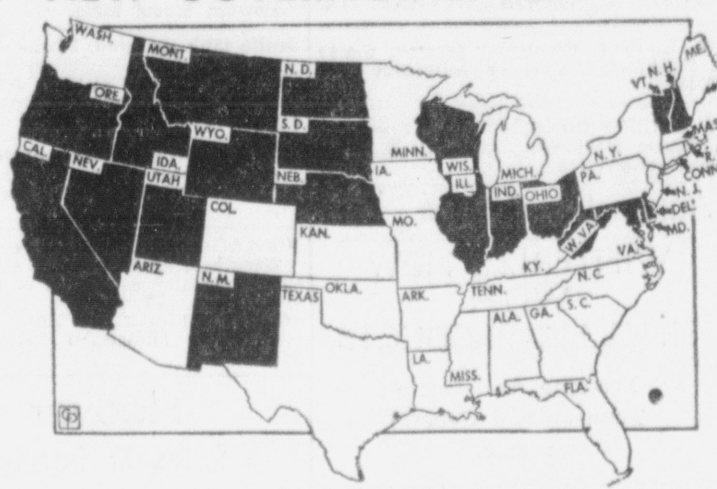

Tree lined spacious Melbourne is loaded with visitors from all parts of the world and in Heidelberg Village, some eight miles from the heart of the city, athletes of all nations including American, Russian and Japanese are fraternizing freely and exchanging pleasantries as well as technique tips.

Reception of the Japanese is one of the most heartening for games organizers, since they had figured that some world war two bitterness would remain. Many Australians were ill treated as prisoners of the Japanese.

Sixty-five countries are still listed to compete. Olympic headquarters announced that 1,052 athletes are now in camp from 31 countries.

Factory Earnings Hit High Level

WASHINGTON (AP)—The government has reported that earnings of factory production workers reached a cord level in October as nationwide employment rose and unemployment declined.

Weekly factory earnings rose by 61 cents over the September record to a new mark of $82.01. Hourly pay, having averaged $2 in September, forged ahead to $2.02 in October.

Job gains in the auto industry and its supplier industries—spurred by heavy production of new model cars—helped boost nationwide employment to 66,174,000, or just under the 66,800,000 job record of last summer. The unemployment total dropped to 1,909,000, lowest since 1953.

4 Bowl Game 'Semifinals' Seen on Saturday Schedule

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS
The Rose, Orange, Cotton and Sugar bowls stage their semifinals Saturday as college football enters the stretch run for post-season bids, conference titles and All America recognition.

Virtually every section has a game which could be ranked the gay's No. 1. But the choicest, perhaps, will be at Atlanta Ga., where Georgia Tech, ranked second in this week's Associated Press poll, meets Tennessee, rated No. 3. It's a battle of unbeaten and the Southeastern Conference crown rides on this one — with both winner and loser likely to wind up in a 'New Year's Day bowl game' (Sugar and Cotton), however.

That's no taffy pull sixth-ranked Minnesota and Iowa have in Minneapolis either. This one's for the Big Ten's berth in the Rose Bowl. It will be the national TV game of the day.

At Palo Alto, Calif., Stanford and Oregon State meet in a game that could decide the other Rose Bowl entry as the Pacific Coast Conference host.

The Orange Bowl tickets probably can be printed Saturday night. Colorado plays Missouri at Columbia, Mo., to name the Big Seven's representative to the Miami classic, while Clemson can pad its already fat bid as the Atlantic Coast Conference entry by beating Maryland.

And at Dallas, fifth-ranked Texas A&M and Southern Methodist play for what could be a giant step toward the Southwest Conference title and the league's host entry to the Cotton Bowl. The Aggies, however, have to shake NCAA probationary action to make it should they take the crown.

All of which pushes most members of the top 10 into unaccustomed roles as lesser lights. Oklahoma, No. 1, casts the shadow of a 36-game winning streak over inept Iowa State. Michigan State, No. 5, plays Purdue; Ohio State, No. 7, meets Indiana; Syracuse, No. 9, tries Holy Cross; and Michigan, No. 10 plays Illinois. Miami (Fla.) No. 8, is idle.

In games tonight, it's Richmond at George Washington in a Southern Conference scrap; and South Oregon at Hawaii.

Georgia Tech, with a 12-game unbeaten streak that includes last year's 7-7 tie by Tennessee, definitely will have George Volkert running at right half against the Vols. After missing last week's 7-0 chiller against Duke because of a leg injury, Volkert impressed Coach Bobby Dodd so much in Thursday's drill he "may even start."

Tailback Johnny Majors is Tennessee's big man, a 5-10 ball of fire who plays as though he invented the pass-run option.

With Ohio State and Michigan State ineligible for the Rose Bowl, Minnesota could virtually nail its first trip to the Pasadena classic by defeating Iowa. The Gophers are unbeaten but once-tied (0-0 by Northwestern), while Iowa, still in

Yesterday's Answer

DAILY CRYPTOQUOTE — Here's how to work it:

ANYDLBAAXR is LONGFELLOW

One letter simply stands for another. In this example A is used for the three L's, X for the two O's, etc. Single letters, apostrophes, the length and formation of the words are all hints. Each day the code letters are different.

A Cryptogram Quotation

4-H Advisors To Be Honored

Banquet Planned
Next Wednesday

The Fayette County 4-H Junior Leadership Club and the Fayette County Agricultural Society will be hosts at a banquet Wednesday, Nov. 14, at the Washington Country Club, honoring advisors to the club and those who have helped further the 4-H program here.

The principal speaker, Mrs. Jean Ruff, former home demonstration agent and International Farm Youth Exchange student, will discuss her experiences as an exchange student.

Approximately 15 clubs will be designated as Fayette County honor clubs, and a number of 4-H advisors will receive certificates of merit for their work.

Barbara Sue Kneisley and David Whiteside will act as toastmistress and toastmaster respectively. Mary Ann Hackett will deliver the invocation. Musical entertainment will be provided by Janet Knedler, Joan Little, Sharon Warnock, Sara Sue Davidson, Brian and Lynn Frock, Barbara S. Kneisley, Edna M. Hoppes and Jackie Hoppes.

Mrs. Margaret Crago, president of the 4-H Council, will conduct the election of Council officers for 1957. Mrs. Lloyd Moberly, chairman of the 4-H Council awards committee, will distribute pins which have been won by junior leaders in the national 4-H awards program.

Ray Brandenburg, president of the Fair Board, also will talk.

3,000 Flee TV Tower

court action to get the tower torn down as a hazard.

FOR officials announced the top of the tower would be dismantled today. Gordon Gray, executive vice president and general manager of the station, said about 75 feet would be removed "as a precautionary measure."

The dead were:
Russell S. Williams, 58, Indianapolis, president of the Bonded Gasoline & Oil Co., a subsidiary of Gaseteria, Inc. He was on his way to LaGuardia Airport, New York, to meet his son and daughter-in-law returning from Europe.
William Cromley, Trafalgar, Ind., the pilot.

Mrs. Harriet Phelps, 58, wife of S. M. Phelps, assistant chief engineer of the New York Times. He said he tried vainly to stop his wife from leaping from their kitchen window in panic.

Mrs. Florence Payne, 55, who lived alone on the top floor of the five-story apartment.

No Danger Ahead

war against the West, is back of the shifting of powerful army forces.

One Pentagon officer, talking about the prospect of outbreaks in Communist-controlled East Germany, Poland or Czechoslovakia, commented that the Russians have reason to know better than anyone else the fighting capabilities of those people.

This, then, could be the chief reason for Soviet deployment: of up to 10 divisions in the area of the Polish border and a score or more divisions in East Germany, he reasoned.
A Joint Chiefs of Staff spokesman disclosed on Wednesday that because of uncertainty about the basis for Soviet troop movements, the Russian talk about intervention in the Middle East fighting and other manifestations of tension, U. S. commanders have been instructed to take certain precautionary steps.

One of them was to call off a routine training maneuver by naval forces and instead assemble the big carriers, cruisers, destroyers and other warships at sea off the Atlantic coast.

Dorn Services Held at Sedalia

Funeral services for Mrs. Isa Dorn of Sedalia, widow of George Dorn, were conducted at 2 p. m. Thursday in the Sedalia Presbyterian Church by the Rev. Robert Waller, the pastor.

Miss Brenda Dorn, accompanied by Mrs. Ruth Dorn, sang "The Lord's Prayer." Pallbearers for the interment in the Sedalia Cemetery were Chester Baughn, Eldon Whiteside, Don Whiteside, Max Whiteside, Mead Allen and Richard Whiteside.

Human Body Seen Able To Shuck Cancer

CHICAGO (AP) — Dr. Chester Southam, an associate at Sloan-Kettering Institute, says studies on volunteer inmates at Ohio Penitentiary have convinced him that the human body has defense mechanisms to cast off cancer.

Dr. Southam told a meeting of the American Cancer Society's Illinois Division Thursday that the studies are nearing completion in Columbus.

He based his views on recent experiments in which human cancer tissue was injected under the skin of 14 healthy penitentiary inmates who volunteered for the experiments.

Previous tests showed that such cancer transplants grew freely under the skin of patients in the late stages of cancer. But in the healthy volunteers, the transplanted cancers either died immediately or were thrown off within 14 days, Southam said.

New studies among the penitentiary inmates will be aimed at determining what body defenses were mustered into the attack that killed the transplanted cancers, he added.

Dorn Elected Head of Farm Bureau Group

The results of elections held Wednesday night at the Fayette County Farm Bureau Federation were announced Friday. All proposed resolutions were passed and the following officers were elected:

Leland Dorn, president; Homer Wilson, vice president; Percie Kennell, secretary; Glenn Smith, treasurer; Mrs. Maurice Sollars and Mrs. H. W. Melvin, lady directors; Kenneth Bush, Donald Rife and Harry Hiser, OFBF delegates; and Mrs. Fred Dement, Roscoe Duff and Edwin Buck, alternate delegates.

Sixteen resolutions were passed dealing with such matters as improved sanitation, better telephone and mail service, and prevention of animal disease. The Farm Bureau also supported a "Right to Work" bill without regard to joining a union, or the limitations of color, race, sex, education or religion.

The first American aviator shot down in World War I was H. Clyde Balsey of the Lafayette Escadrille in 1916.

Band To Leave For Cleveland At 5:30 a. m.

Washington High School Marching Band is to leave from the high school here at 5:30 a. m. in Sunday's pre-dawn darkness on its trip to Cleveland for a half-time show at the Browns-Baltimore Colts football game that afternoon.

Director Robert Neumann has suggested the young musicians take breakfast and a thermos bottle of some hot drink with them.

Catholic communicants in the band are to attend church in Cleveland only a few blocks from the stadium. The buses are to stop at Strongsville on the way home for a special half-hour church service.

Band members probably will lunch at three different places before arriving in Cleveland. Neumann explained that if each of the three buses stops at a different place, the lunch period will not take so long.

The thermos bottles may be refilled with a hot drink at noon, Neumann said, so the boys and girls will have something to warm them during the game — because indications are that the day will be cold.

Neumann estimated that about 95 per cent of the $610 bus expense was raised by the band members through the sale of special Sunshine Laundry discount coupons. The rest, they will pay themselves. They also will have to pay for their own meals.

Methodist Fellowship Series Closes Sunday

The last of the series of Fellowship potluck suppers at Grace Methodist Church will be held Sunday evening.

The Open Circle Sunday School class is to be in charge of the dining room and Mrs. Joe White of the worship period.

One of the highlights of the evening's program, on the theme of "Fellowship through Vision," will be the showing of slides of pictures taken in many countries by Dr. and Mrs. Paul Wiant. Members of the intermediate and senior Methodist Youth Fellowship groups are to join the adults in the sanctuary for this part of the program. The junior, primary and pre-school children are to remain in their regular classrooms.

SUNDAY MORNING, Veterans Day, members of the Hughey post of the American Legion and its Women's Auxiliary are to attend the regular worship service. The veterans of three wars and members of the Auxiliary are to meet at Legion Hall and walk the block and a half to Grace Church together. Pews are to be reserved for them and the Rev. L. J. Poe has prepared a special sermon combining the spirit of Thanksgiving and peace. His sermon topic will be "Permanent Values of Puritanism."

Since Veterans Day falls on Sunday this year, part of the observance will be held on Monday. This will include the customary march from the Legion Hall on N. Fayette St. to the Courthouse lawn in the evening.

Ohioana Library Head To Address AAUW

Dr. Walter Rumsey Marvin, executive director of the Ohioana Library Assn., will address the Washington C. H. branch of the American Assn. of University Women (AAUW) at its regular monthly meeting at 7:30 p. m. Monday in the home of Mrs. William A. Lovell Sr., 604 S. Fayette St.

Dr. Marvin, who has been the executive director of the Ohioana Library Assn. for the last four years, succeeded Mrs. Depeu Head. Mrs. Head was the first director after the association was founded in 1921, largely through the efforts of Mrs. Myers Y. Cooper, Ohio's first lady at that time.

The Ohioana Library is made up of books by and about Ohioans and the association is devoted, not only to the collections of these works, but also to honoring and encouraging Ohio authors.

A short business session is to be held following Dr. Marvin's talk, the publicity chairman, Mrs. Charles Pensyl, said.

Mrs. Colin C. Campbell, president of the branch, announced that each member may bring an invited guest.

The branch here, which was formed only about six months ago, now has 37 members.

George W. Taylor, Sabina, Dies at 73

George T. Taylor, 73, a resident of Sabina and an employee of the Melvin Stone Co. for 30 years before his retirement in 1950, died at 11:45 p. m. Thursday in Fayette Memorial Hospital where he had been a patient five days.

In failing health for two years, Mr. Taylor had been seriously ill four weeks.

A native of Clinton County, he had spent his entire life in the Sabina community. He was a member of the Melvin Methodist Church and the Loyal Order of Moose.

He is survived by one daughter, Mrs. Florence Baker, Washington C. H.; two sons, Carl W. and Guy, both of Sabina; four grandchildren; one great-grandchild; three sisters, Mrs. Mattie Driscoll, Waldron, Mich., and Mrs. Nellie Barnett and Mrs. Effie Cooper, both of Dayton; one brother, Ira Taylor, Sabina. His wife, the former Nancy Storer, died in 1930.

Services will be at 2 p. m. Sunday in the Littleton Funeral Home, Sabina, where friends may call from 2 until 4 p. m. and 7 until 9 p. m. Saturday. Burial will be in Sabina Cemetery.

2 Traffic Cases On Court Docket

It was a short session in Municipal Court Friday morning with only two cases on the docket. Richard H. Tootle, 20, Clarksburg, arrested on Washington Ave. about 1 a. m. and charged with 70 mph speed, was fined $25 and costs.

Edgar L. Matthews, 44, of 1225 N. North St., charged with driving 45 mph on N. North St., forfeited $15 bond.

The first fully automatic bottle-making machine was invented in 1903.

'Bit of Sunlight' Is Seen In Long Telephone Dispute

COLUMBUS (AP)—Gov. Frank J. Lausche said today a four-hour conference made some progress, but produced no definite solution, to the deadlocked Ohio Consolidated Telephone Co. strike.

He said representatives of the company and the striking Communications Workers of America union would meet again in the governor's mansion later today.

"A bit of sunlight broke through," the governor commented. "My belief is that progress was made in the solution, but no definite statement on the end result can be made at this time."

The governor indicated he would delay calling the legislature into special session to deal with the strike.

The governor said last week he would call the Legislature to consider a law banning utilities strikes and compel arbitration.

In Portsmouth, the Voluntary Citizens Committee for Law Enforcement agreed at a meeting Thursday night to stand by until after today's meeting in Columbus. The committee had asked Lausche to call the special legislative session.

The committee heard a suggestion that it ask the governor to send the Ohio National Guard to Portsmouth to maintain law and order when and if emergency telephone service is restored there. But the suggestion died for lack of support.

Telephone exchanges in Portsmouth and Scioto County were closed by Ohio Consolidated Oct. 15 after its facilities there were stoned. The company has said it will not restore service until what it calls "law and order is a fact."

Meanwhile, the Portsmouth Fraternal Order of Police appointed a group to "arrange meetings with other committees now investigating the police department's alleged lack of law enforcement."

Detective Lt. Ronald Parker, president of the police organization, said: "After we've taken inventory and found out needs of the police department, we would like to present that information to the City Council for some action."

Police Chief Hugh Rudity said his department gave the company all the protection possible since the strike began July 15.

Ohio Consolidated reports its cables were cut at four different

Locations Around Convoy Wednesday Night, But That Service Now Is Restored to Nearly All the 290 Tele- phones Affected.

Van Wert County Sheriff W. L. Clay said the cable cuttings were not reported to him until nearly 24 hours afterward. They were the first such incidents in that area since the strike began July 15. The union consistently has denied responsibility for such vandalism.

Services for Mrs. Hannah Haaga Ford, 88, were held at 2 p. m. Thursday in the Morrow Funeral Home, Jeffersonville, with the Rev. C. R. Williamson, pastor of the Methodist Church there, officiating. Mrs. Ford, the widow of John Ford, died Monday in her Jeffersonville home.

Burial was in Bainbridge Cemetery with John Williams, Wayne, Richard, Harry, Tiffin and Given Houseman acting as pallbearers.

Chillicothe Defeats City Manager Plan

CHILLICOTHE — Voters of this city turned down the charter - city manager form of government for the old - type government at Tuesday's election.

The vote stood 4,078 for the proposal and 4,497 against it. Six of the city's 27 precincts voted in favor. Opposition to the proposal centered on provisions that no local person could be city manager until a period of five years had elapsed; a 1.8 mills tax hike and non-partisan council-at-large recommendation, and the city manager form itself.

A year ago voters elected 15 men for a commission to frame a charter and submit it to the voters.

'Brucellosis Testing Lab Due Nov. 20

The mobile state testing laboratory for detection of brucellosis in cattle will arrive in Fayette County Nov. 20, according to the Agricultural Extension Service Office here.

Free tests will be given because 466 farmers owning more than 17,000 cattle signed a petition asking for them. Fayette County Dairy Assn. directors plan to visit every farm in the county to urge dairymen to take advantage of the free milk ring test and beef owners to accept the free blood test.

The laboratory will be stationed at the Fayette County Fairgrounds until about Dec. 10.

Services Thursday For Mrs. Pollard

Services for Mrs. Sadie Pollard, 67, who died Monday of a heart attack, were held at 2 p. m. Thursday in the Gerstner Funeral Home with the Rev. Arthur George officiating.

Mrs. George and Mrs. Gladys Sibole sang "Rock of Ages," and "In the Garden," with Mrs. Marian Gage at the piano. Burial was in White Oak Cemetery, with Harold Pollard, Douglas Ogden and Raymond, Herman, Elmer and Ralph Ward as pallbearers.

The walrus is generally peaceable except when molested or engaged in mating contests.

Junior High Team Honored at Banquet

More than 100 people — players, fans, parents and coaches — attended a banquet at Grace Methodist Church Thursday night honoring the Washington Junior High football team.

The Junior High had a 5-1 record this season.

Bill McLean, president of the Booster Club, presided as toastmaster. Several speeches were made praising the young players, as everyone dug into a "pot-luck" steak dinner.

The Rev. L. J. Poe delivered the invocation and talks were given by Head Coach Fred Domenico and Principal John Trace. Junior High Coach Herb Russell thanked everyone who had supported the team, and gave special thanks to Mrs. Gilbert Crouse, Mrs. Frank Reno and Mrs. Norris Highfield who helped plan the dinner.

A female housefly may deposit up to 2,500 eggs during a life span of two to four weeks.

4-H Advisors To Be Honored

Banquet Planned
Next Wednesday

The Fayette County 4-H Junior Leadership Club and the Fayette County Agricultural Society will be hosts at a banquet Wednesday, Nov. 14, at the Washington Country Club, honoring advisors to the club and those who have helped further the 4-H program here.

The principal speaker, Mrs. Jean Ruff, former home demonstration agent and International Farm Youth Exchange student, will discuss her experiences as an exchange student.

Approximately 15 clubs will be designated as Fayette County honor clubs, and a number of 4-H advisors will receive certificates of merit for their work.

Barbara Sue Kneisley and David Whiteside will act as toastmistress and toastmaster respectively. Mary Ann Hackett will deliver the invocation. Musical entertainment will be provided by Janet Knedler, Joan Little, Sharon Warnock, Sara Sue Davidson, Brian and Lynn Frock, Barbara S. Kneisley, Edna M. Hoppes and Jackie Hoppes.

Mrs. Margaret Crago, president of the 4-H Council, will conduct the election of Council officers for 1957. Mrs. Lloyd Moberly, chairman of the 4-H Council awards committee, will distribute pins which have been won by junior leaders in the national 4-H awards program.

Ray Brandenburg, president of the Fair Board, also will talk.

court action to get the tower torn down as a hazard.

FOR officials announced the top of the tower would be dismantled today. Gordon Gray, executive vice president and general manager of the station, said about 75 feet would be removed "as a precautionary measure."

The dead were:
Russell S. Williams, 58, Indianapolis, president of the Bonded Gasoline & Oil Co., a subsidiary of Gasferia, Inc. He was on his way to LaGuardia Airport, New York, to meet his son and daughter, law returning from Europe.

William Cromley, Trafalgar, Ind., the pilot.

Mrs. Harriet Phelps, 58, wife of S. M. Phelps, assistant chief engineer of the New York Times. He said he tried vainly to stop his wife from leaping from their kitchen window in panic.

Mrs. Florence Payne, 55, who lived alone on the top floor of the five-story apartment.

No Danger Ahead

war against the West, is back of the shifting of powerful army forces.

One Pentagon officer, talking about the prospect of outbreaks in Communist - controlled East Germany, Poland or Czechoslovakia, commented that the Russians have reason to know better than anyone else the fighting capabilities of those people.

This, then, could be the chief reason for Soviet deployment of up to 10 divisions in the area of the Polish border and a score or more divisions in East Germany, he reasoned.

A Joint Chiefs of Staff spokesman disclosed on Wednesday that because of uncertainty about the basis for Soviet troop movements, the Russian talk about intervention in the Middle East fighting and other manifestations of tension, U. S. commanders have been instructed to take certain precautionary steps.

One of them was to call off a routine training maneuver by naval forces and instead assemble the big carriers, cruisers, destroyers and other warships at sea off the Atlantic coast.

Human Body Seen Able To Shuck Cancer

CHICAGO (AP) — Dr. Chester Southam, an associate at Sloan-Kettering Institute, says studies on volunteer inmates at Ohio Penitentiary have convinced him that the human body has defense mechanisms to cast off cancer.

Dr. Southam told a meeting of the American Cancer Society's Illinois Division Thursday that the studies are nearing completion in Columbus.

He based his views on recent experiments in which human cancer tissue was injected under the skin of 14 healthy penitentiary inmates who volunteered for the experiments.

Previous tests showed that such cancer transplants grew freely under the skin of patients in the late stages of cancer. But in the healthy volunteers, the transplanted cancers either died immediately or were thrown off within 14 days, Southam said.

New studies among the penitentiary inmates will be aimed at determining what body defenses were mustered into the attack that killed the transplanted cancers, he added.

Dorn Elected Head of Farm Bureau Group

The results of elections held Wednesday night at the Fayette County Farm Bureau Federation were announced Friday. All proposed resolutions were passed and the following officers were elected:
Leland Dorn, president; Homer Wilson, vice president; Percie Kennell, secretary; Glenn Smith, treasurer; Mrs. Maurice Sollars and Mrs. H. W. Melvin, lady directors; Kenneth Bush, Donald Rife and Harry Hiser, OFBF delegates; and Mrs. Fred Dement, Roscoe Duff and Edwin Buck, alternate delegates.

Sixteen resolutions were passed dealing with such matters as improved sanitation, better telephone and mail service, and prevention of animal disease. The Farm Bureau also supported a "Right to Work" bill without regard to joining a union, or the limitations of color, race, sex, education or religion.

Band To Leave For Cleveland At 5:30 a. m.

Washington High School Marching Band is to leave from the high school here at 5:30 a. m. in Sunday's pre-dawn darkness on its trip to Cleveland for a half - time show at the Browns - Baltimore Colts football game that afternoon.

Director Robert Neumann has suggested the young musicians take breakfast and a thermos bottle of some hot drink with them.

Catholic communicants in the band are to attend church in Cleveland only a few blocks from the stadium. The buses are to stop at Strongsville on the way home for a special half-hour church service.

Band members probably will lunch at three different places just before arriving in Cleveland. Neumann explained that if each of the three buses stops at a different place, the lunch period will not take so long.

The thermos bottles may be refilled with a hot drink at noon, Neumann said, so the boys and girls will have something to warm them during the game — because indications are that the day will be cold.

Neumann estimated that about 95 per cent of the $610 bus expense was raised by the band members through the sale of special Sunshine Laundry discount coupons. The rest, they will pay themselves. They also will have to pay for their own meals.

Methodist Fellowship Series Closes Sunday

The last of the series of Fellowship potluck suppers at Grace Methodist Church will be held Sunday evening.

The Open Circle Sunday School class is to be in charge of the dining room and Mrs. Joe White of the worship period.

One of the highlights of the evening's program, on the theme of "Fellowship through Vision," will be the showing of slides of pictures taken in many countries by Dr. and Mrs. Paul Wiant. Members of the intermediate and senior Methodist Youth Fellowship groups are to join the adults in the sanctuary for this part of the program. The junior, primary and pre - school children are to remain in their regular classrooms.

SUNDAY MORNING, Veterans Day, members of the Hughey post of the American Legion and its Women's Auxiliary are to attend the regular worship service. The veterans of three wars and members of the Auxiliary are to meet at Legion Hall and walk the block and a half to Grace Church together. Pews are to be reserved for them and the Rev. L. J. Poe has prepared a special sermon combining the spirit of Thanksgiving and peace. His sermon topic will be "Permanent Values of Puritanism."

Since Veterans Day falls on Sunday this year, part of the observance will be held on Monday. This will include the customary march from the Legion Hall on N. Fayette St. to the Courthouse lawn in the evening.

Ohioana Library Head To Address AAUW

Dr. Walter Rumsey Marvin, executive director of the Ohioana Library Assn., will address the Washington C. H. branch of the American Assn. of University Women (AAUW) at its regular monthly meeting at 7:30 p. m. Monday in the home of Mrs. William A. Lovell Sr., 604 S. Fayette St.

Dr. Marvin, who has been the executive director of the Ohioana Library Assn. for the last four years, succeeded Mrs. Depew Head. Mrs. Head was the first director after the association was founded in 1921, largely through the efforts of Mrs. Myers Y. Cooper, Ohio's first lady at that time.

The Ohioana Library is made up of books by and about Ohioans and the association is devoted, not only to the collections of these works, but also to honoring and encouraging Ohio authors.

A short business session is to be held following Dr. Marvin's talk, the publicity chairman, Mrs. Charles Pensyl, said.

Mrs. Colin C. Campbell, president of the branch, announced that each member may bring an invited guest.

The branch here, which was formed only about six months ago, now has 37 members.

George W. Taylor, Sabina, Dies at 73

George T. Taylor, 73, a resident of Sabina and an employee of the Melvin Stone Co. for 30 years before his retirement in 1950, died at 11:45 p. m. Thursday in Fayette Memorial Hospital where he had been a patient five days.

In failing health for two years, Mr. Taylor had been seriously ill four weeks.

A native of Clinton County, he had spent his entire life in the Sabina community. He was a member of the Melvin Methodist Church and the Loyal Order of Moose.

He is survived by one daughter, Mrs. Florence Baker, Washington C. H.; two sons, Carl W. and Guy; one great-grandchild; three sisters, Mrs. Mattie Driscoll, Waldron, Mich., and Mrs. Nellie Barnett and Mrs. Effie Cooper, both of Dayton; one brother, Ira Taylor, Sabina. His wife, the former Nancy Storer, died in 1930.

Services will be at 2 p. m. Sunday in the Littleton Funeral Home, Sabina, where friends may call from 2 until 4 p. m. and 7 until 9 p. m. Saturday. Burial will be in Sabina Cemetery.

2 Traffic Cases On Court Docket

It was a short session in Municipal Court Friday morning with only two cases on the docket.

Richard H. Tootle, 20, Clarksville, arrested on Washington Ave. about 1 a. m. and charged with driving 45 mph on N. North St., forfeited $15 bond.

Edgar L. Matthews, 44, of 1225 N. North St., charged with driving 45 mph on N. North St., forfeited $15 bond.

The first fully automatic bottle-making machine was invented in 1903.

'Bit of Sunlight' Is Seen In Long Telephone Dispute

COLUMBUS (AP)—Gov. Frank J. Lausche said today a four-hour conference made some progress, but produced no definite solution, to the deadlocked Ohio Consolidated Telephone Co. strike.

He said representatives of the company and the striking Communications Workers of America union would meet again in the governor's mansion later today.

"A bit of sunlight broke through," the governor commented. "My belief is that progress was made in the solution, but no definite statement on the end result can be made at this time."

The governor indicated he would delay calling the legislature into special session to deal with the strike.

The governor said last week he would call the Legislature to consider a law banning utilities strikes and compel arbitration.

In Portsmouth, the Voluntary Citizens Committee for Law Enforcement agreed at a meeting Thursday night to stand by until after today's meeting in Columbus. The committee had asked Lausche to call the special legislative session.

The committee heard a suggestion that it ask the governor to send the Ohio National Guard to Portsmouth to maintain law and order when and if emergency telephone service is restored there. But the suggestion died for lack of support.

Telephone exchanges in Portsmouth and Scioto County were closed by Ohio Consolidated Oct. 15 after its facilities there were stolen. The company has said it will not restore service until what it calls "law and order is a fact."

Meanwhile, the Portsmouth Fraternal Order of Police appointed a group to "arrange meetings with other committees now investigating the police department's alleged lack of law enforcement."

Detective Lt. Ronald Parker, president of the police organization, said: "After we've taken inventory and found out needs of the police department, we would like to present that information to the City Council for some action."

Police Chief Hugh Rudity said his department gave the company all the protection possible since the strike began July 15.

Ohio Consolidated reports its cables were cut at four different locations around Convoy Wednesday night, but that service now is restored to nearly all the 290 telephones affected.

Van Wert County Sheriff W. L. Clay said the cable cuttings were not reported to him until nearly 24 hours afterward. They were the first such incidents in that area since the strike began July 15. The union consistently has denied responsibility for such vandalism.
